A prominent red flag with white Korean text is visible in the lower-left quadrant. Other white signs with Korean text are scattered throughout the crowd. Race Rights Reparations Fernne Brennan, 2017-07-14 This book considers institutional racism as a problem that exists within modern societies Its roots lie with the transatlantic slave trade and slavery and the solution involves ridding society of the problem It is argued here that first there needs to be an acceptance of its existence then developing the tools needed to deal with it and finally to implement those tools so that institutional racism can be permanently removed from society The book has four themes the first considers the nature of institutional racism the second theme looks at instances of institutional racism through matters such as deaths in custody and skin lightening the third considers the concept of reparations and the final area looks at the development of social movements as a way of pushing institutional racism up the political agenda The development of a social movement is part of a social discourse which would for example push mentoring as a form of reparations There is a need for more research on the manifestations of institutional racism and this book is part of that discourse It is argued that the legacy of the slave trade and slavery is continuing and contemporary through the presence of institutional racism in society This problem has not been addressed through legislation and policies devised to combat racial discrimination Institutional racism needs to be understood as being located in the processes and procedures of societal institutions

A Transnational History of the Australian Animal Movement, 1970-2015 Gonzalo Villanueva, 2017-10-20 This book offers the first transnational historical study of the creation contention and consequences of the Australian animal movement Largely inspired by Peter Singer and his 1975 book Animal Liberation a new wave of animal activism emerged in Australia and across the world In an effort to draw public and media attention to the plight of animals such as the rearing of pigs and poultry in factory farms and the export of live animals to the Middle East and South East Asia Australian activists were often innovative and provocative in how they made their claims Through lobbying disruptive methods and vegan activism the animal movement consistently contested the politics and culture of how animals were used and exploited Australians not only observed and learnt from people and events overseas but also played significant international roles This book examines the complex and conflicting consequences of the animal movement for Australian politics as well as its influence on broader social change

Searching for Marx in the Occupy Movement John Leveille,2017-11-22 Searching for Marx in the Occupy Movement is a critical participant observation study of the Philadelphia branch of the Occupy Wall Street movement John Leveille spent over nine months with Occupy Philadelphia as the members organized and carried out their protests This book describes and analyzes the rise the organization and the demise of this group The important events and activities of Occupy Philadelphia are discussed and dissected with specific attention given to the confusions and chaos that permeated this group and Occupy Wall Street more generally which contributed to its rather rapid decline A revisionist Marxism informed loosely by the critical theory of the Frankfurt school is used here to understand and explain the happenings of this protest group The theory provides an epistemological and methodological framework for this study and it is also used to account for the observed behaviors Leveille argues that an essential conflict between humanism and the forces of rational capitalism lies at the heart of this protest movement This conflict contributed both to the rise of Occupy and to its operations It was manifested in two intersecting ways One of these concerns the destabilization of the self in contemporary capitalism which provided fuel for the movement The second revolves around the limited abilities of existing institutional arrangements to manage or channel the essential conflicts related to values that are produced by rational capitalism Ultimately Searching for Marx in the Occupy Movement makes a controversial claim that the movement was as much if not more about democracy morality and the organization and experience of the self and of social life as it was about economic matters The argument is made that Occupy was as much an expressive movement as it was an instrumental one It was expressing contradictions produced by capitalism through extra institutional means because the existing institutional arrangements have been and continue to be unable to manage or contain them
