The profiles collectively form a picture of the common and pressing issues affecting service learning programs across the United States. Service-Learning in Higher Education D. Butin, 2005-07-14 Advocates have positioned service learning as a real-world, real-time opportunity for students to encounter academic knowledge in a meaningful and relevant manner. Service learning in higher education settings offers a powerful alternative to traditional models of teaching and learning. Students are encouraged to develop links to local institutions, volunteer their time, and create a special bond between the university and the community in which they live. Service learning has become a very popular alternative to standard courses in higher education and is gaining significant popularity. This book takes a serious look at the unintended consequences and alternative conceptualizations of this mode of learning and explores what it could offer us in the future.

Service-learning Alan S. Waterman, 2014-03-18 Linking research and educational practice for the benefit of both is not a new idea. If practice such as service learning is a bold departure from the status quo, however, research is not just beneficial; it is critical. If schools are to become laboratories of democracy and entrepreneurship and if students are to become engaged as partners in renewal of their communities a research case must be made for service learning Does learning take place Will other kinds of learning suffer What kinds of practice are most effective Clearly solid research is essential if this transforming way of teaching and learning is to be fully integrated into American schooling and youth development institutions The National Youth Leadership Council NYLC took a first step toward joining service learning practice with research in 1983 In 1991 NYLC created a center which initiated and encouraged program evaluation formative research that informs and improves practice and summative studies that measure results This volume grew out of a National Service Learning Conference an annual event convened by the NYLC A day long research seminar at the conference brought together researchers to discuss the latest developments among themselves and with practitioners Impressive in their range and rigor their papers offer documentation and analysis useful to an emerging research knowledge base It is a starting point for the evidence needed to firmly establish service learning for K 12 age people as a widely accepted way of teaching and learning
