Multicultural Assessment Richard H. Dana, 2005-03-23 Psychologists throughout the world are being asked to assess an increasingly diverse clientele immigrants refugees second and third generations still influenced by different cultures and languages and indigenous peoples now moving towards the mainstream Most are ill equipped by training and experience to understand assess and subsequently treat such clients competently and ethically Virtually all agree on the need for culture sensitive assessment but it has proven difficult to provide adequate services despite good intentions and funding Too often clients who may have different worldview and health illness beliefs are marginalized For many reasons standard assessment instruments designed researched and normed on a few groups in the United States the MMPI 2 the Rorschach and the TAT are used as though they were universally applicable Most busy practitioners have little time to investigate alternatives developed for use with one new group or another focused on one issue or another generally in a research context In this book Richard Dana proposes a new model of multicultural assessment practice and points directions for future training and research He presents general culture specific and step by step instrument specific guidelines for the use of the standard armamentarium with different groups Throughout he highlights exciting new interpretive possibilities the traditional tests offer that should be regularly exploited but emphasizes the importance of recognizing psychometric limits Four extended examples of the use of one or several instruments with a specific group offer concrete illustrations of the model in action Multicultural Assessment Principles Applications and Examples constitutes an invaluable new resource for psychologists and for their students and trainees Multicultural Assessment Richard Henry Dana (Jr.), 2005 Cultural Competence In Assessment And Intervention With Ethnic Minorities: Some Perspectives From Psychology, Social Work and Education Robert G. Malgady, 2011 Without a thorough understanding of culture and its nuances on part of the mental health service providers alienation stigma and culturally based impediments rule While concerns for diversity have been raised on numerous occasions with increasing frequency over the past four decades little progress has been made in implementing such concerns in clinical practice Over two thirds of Americans receive treatment for depression anxiety substance abuse and related disorders Comorbidity is rarely diagnosed These trends are greatly exacerbated among members of ethnic cultural and linguistic minority groups the authors contributing to this volume share their clinical acumen and experiences rooted in their evidence based research Their purpose is to bring issues attending assessment and treatment of ethnic minority clientele closer to the fore Some of the leading authors on the topic in psychology and social work present their well earned clinical and research experiences in this volume Case studies are presented which are instructive and intriguing bringing together the richness of a multidisciplinary approach to the topic To Be One in Christ Fernando A. Ortiz, Gerard J. McGlone, 2015-08-28 The priests and pastoral ministers of our day increasingly reflects the multicultural multi ethnic and multi lingual nature of the church in the United States For a variety of reasons they come from diverse ethnic backgrounds
