Library one of America's premier school library educators covers the A-Z of both reference and information services for today's library. Everything from teaching students how to use sources to both in person and virtual reference service is covered. A key feature of the text is an annotated bibliography of core print and electronic sources for elementary, middle, and high school collections. Yes, reference and information services are vital library functions in the digital age. Even students who appear to be tech-savvy have trouble finding the right information efficiently and knowing what to do with it. This book examines information needs and behaviors and provides strategies for assessing and meeting the informational needs of the school community. The book also addresses the conditions for optimum service: physical access, including virtual access; effective interaction and collaboration; instructional design and systematic planning. Newer issues such as embedded librarianship, curation, collective intelligence, and web 2.0 intellectual property are also addressed. This book introduces the entering professional and updates practitioners to current standards and useful strategies.

Reference and Information Services Richard E. Bopp, Linda C. Smith, 1991. Updated to reflect the latest trends and the newest sources commonly used for reference work, this new edition includes more detailed discussion of a wider range of reference-related services, including interlibrary loan, document delivery, and readers advisory services. There is also increased attention to ethical issues and a stronger focus on user-centered services, both face-to-face and mediated by technology. In addition, the authors discuss Web sites of significant value and the impact of the Internet on reference services. Copyright Libri GmbH. All rights reserved.
