Reproducing The State:

Reproducing the State Jacqueline Stevens, 2020-12-08 People are said to acquire their affiliations of ethnicity race and sex at birth Hence these affiliations have long been understood to be natural independent of the ability of political societies to define who we are Reproducing the State vigorously challenges the conventional view as well as post structuralist scholarship that minimizes state power Jacqueline Stevens examines birth based theories of membership and group affiliations in political societies ranging from the Athenian polis to tribes of Australia to the French republic to the contemporary United States The book details how political societies determine the kinship rules that are used to reproduce political societies Stevens analyzes the ways that ancestral and territorial birth rules for membership in political societies pattern other intergenerational affiliations She shows how the notion of ethnicity depends on the implicit or explicit invocation of a past present or future political society She also shows how geography is used to represent political regions including continents as the seemingly natural underpinning for racial taxonomies perpetuated through miscegenation laws and birth certificates And Stevens argues that sex differences are also constituted through membership practices of political societies In its chronological and disciplinary range Reproducing the State will reward the interest of scholars in many fields including anthropology history political science sociology women s studies race studies and ethnic studies The State, Specially the American State, Psychologically Treated Denton Jaques Snider, 1902 State and Statehood in the Global South Miriam Fahimi, Elmar Flatschart, Wolfram Schaffar, 2022-04-19 This book focuses on critical approaches to the state and state theory in the Global South In light of the reemergence of the post colonial and peripheral state as a crucial institution and actor in the 21st century s capitalist world system the book examines the nature functions and development dynamics of the state in the periphery as well as its constituting interests and struggles Drawing on the works of Poulantzas and Gramsci dependency and world systems theory as well as the regulation school and the German Ableitungsdebatte stategraphy and critical realism it analyzes the development of different theoretical perspectives on the state elaborates on their theoretical ontological and epistemological presuppositions and illustrates their methodological practical and ethical implications The book is divided into three parts the first of which provides an overview of recent global capitalist developments and challenges for state theory and lays the theoretical ontological and hermeneutic foundation for studies of the state and statehood in the Global South In turn the second part introduces readers to different schools of state theory including critical theory and materialism as well as approaches derived from postcolonial anthropological and feminist thought Lastly the third part presents various empirical studies highlighting concrete methodological and practical experiences of conducting critical state theory Report of the State Entomologist and Plant Pathologist Virginia.
