In order to quantitatively evaluate the effect of college counselors' intervention methods on students' psychological crisis, an evaluation model of college counselors' intervention methods on students' psychological crisis based on the deep learning model is put forward. The learning model function of college counselors' intervention in students' psychological crisis is constructed. By using the joint statistical feature analysis method, the dynamic factor analysis of college counselors' intervention in students' psychological crisis is established, and the machine learning model of college counselors' intervention in students' psychological crisis is constructed. By using the methods of big data fusion and correlation dimension feature analysis, combined with a fuzzy C-means clustering algorithm, the reliability evaluation of college counselors' intervention on students' psychological crisis and the construction of a large database are realized. By using the deep learning model, the parameters of college counselors' intervention on students' psychological crisis are optimized and analyzed, and the methods of college counselors' intervention on students' psychological crisis are optimized and designed. The test shows that it is reliable and expandable to use this method for college counselors' intervention in students' psychological crisis, and it can establish the applicable technology of knowledge network to realize the correct intervention of college counselors in students' psychological crisis.

1. Introduction

Our country's new era of education puts forward the fundamental task of "cultivating morality and cultivating people," which has higher requirements for the development of Ideological and political education in Colleges and universities [1–3]. The most important thing to carry out ideological and political education is the psychological health education of college students. Therefore, in order to improve the quality of Ideological and political education, the quality of College Students' mental health education can not become a short board, and it is imperative to explore the related content of improving the quality of mental health education [4–6].

The evaluation of College Students' mental health education plays an irreplaceable role in improving the quality of education. Through the evaluation of College Students' mental health education [7], we can more intuitively show the progress and problems of a certain education stage. Under the background of the new era, the proposal of the educational concept of "cultivating morality and cultivating people" points out the direction for the mental health education in Colleges and universities, and further defines the value judgment and development direction of its quality. The evaluation of College Students' mental health education is a relatively weak part of the work system of College Students' mental health education, but it is also a key way and effective way to improve the quality of College Students' mental health education [8–10]. Therefore, according to the needs of the times, it is of practical significance to update and improve the evaluation system of College Students' mental health education. In a word, if we want to realize the mission of the times to improve the quality of College Students' mental health education, and then improve the quality of College Ideological and political education, we must adhere to the fundamental task of Building Morality and cultivating people, conform to the development of the times, stimulate the vitality of the times, and vigorously carry out the evaluation and research work of College Students' mental health education.
