armies were large in number reaching a total of well over 1 million before 1945 Although poorly armed and equipped these forces had an influence on the Japanese war effort through sheer numbers The Chinese puppet soldiers ranged from the well drilled and trained regular Army of the Last Emperor of China Pu Yi who ruled the newly formed state of Manchukuo 1932-45 to the irregular Mongol cavalry who served alongside Japanese troops in the secret war waged in the Mongolian hinterlands The troops were dismissed as traitors by the Chinese fighting the Japanese and they were equally despised by the Japanese themselves The troops were motivated by a range of reasons from simple survival to a loyalty to their commander The fact that so many Chinese were willing to fight for the Japanese was embarrassing to all sides and for this reason has been largely ignored in previous histories of the war in the East In the first of a three volume series Philip Jowett tells the story of the Chinese who fought for the Japanese over a 14 year period The Uncle Amos Puppet Show Mrs. Neva Kanaga Brown, 1930 This story is based on the author's young brother Amos who began creating puppet theaters when he was nine years old
