Philosophical Works Of Lady Mary Shepherd:

Philosophical Works of Lady Mary Shepherd Lady Mary Shepherd, 2000-10-15 This collection confirms that Mary Shepherd is an unjustly neglected figure in modern philosophy. It will be especially interesting to students of Berkeley and Hume. David Raynor. Very little is known about the life and work of Lady Mary Shepherd 1777-1847 and yet she is undoubtedly one of the most important women philosophers of the early modern period. Whewell is reputed to have used one of her books as a text at Cambridge and Sir Charles Lyell said of her that she was an unanswerable logician in whose argument it was impossible to find a loophole or flaw. Exceptionally well read and analytically clear, she made a significant scholarly contribution to the philosophical discussion and debate surrounding the work of Hume, Berkeley and others. This is the first modern edition of Shepherd's writings, including her two major philosophical works: An Essay upon the Relation of Cause and Effect (1824), a critique of Hume's view of causality, and Essays on the Perception of an External Universe and Other Subjects (1827), a refutation of Berkeley's idealism. Also included is her first anonymous publication, Enquiry respecting the Relation of Cause and Effect (1819), and two shorter pieces. There is a growing interest in the contribution of women writers to the history of philosophy. However, limited access to original texts has prevented a serious and systematic examination of their doctrines. Shepherd's philosophical works deserve the careful consideration of contemporary historians and philosophers but until now have been largely unavailable to the modern reader. A reevaluation of her works is long overdue and this new collection is a welcome addition to Thoemmes Press's list of very rare works by an eminent and increasingly prominent woman philosopher of the Scottish Enlightenment. No single library in the world has all these works available for the first time in a modern edition. Includes critical responses to leading figures of early modern philosophy, introduction with biographical detail on Shepherd and account of her works.

Philosophical Works of Lady Mary Shepherd: Essays on the perception of an external universe Lady Mary Shepherd, 2000

Lady Mary Shepherd Deborah Boyle, 2019-01-09 The philosophical writings of Lady Mary Shepherd 1777-1847 reveal an astute and lively intellect. In An Essay upon the Relation of Cause and Effect (1824) and Essays on the Perception of an External Universe and Other Subjects Connected with the Doctrine of Causation (1827) Shepherd engaged critically with the views of Hume, Berkeley, Reid, Stewart, de Condillac and others but she also presented an original and carefully argued philosophical system of her own. Highly regarded in her day, Shepherd's work faded into obscurity after her death. This collection of selections from her writings is intended to bring her work back into focus for students and scholars. Selections include her writings about causation, knowledge of the external world, mathematical and physical induction, belief in miracles and God, and mind and body. This volume also includes an 1828 essay, Shepherd published on vision.
