Greenwood, 1984 The Journal of Business Education, 1984 ACM Transactions on Office Information Systems, 1987 The GSA Training Center Catalog and Schedule GSA Training Center (U.S.), 1984 Management in Government, 1984 Resources in Education, 1996 Work Related Abstracts, 1989

Design Discourse Victor Margolin, 1989-09-15 The editor has gathered together a body of writing in the emerging field of design studies. The contributors argue in different ways for a rethinking of design in the light of its cultural significance and its powerful position in today's society. The collection begins with a discussion of the various expressions of opposition to the modernist's purist approach toward design. Drawing on postmodernist theory and other critical strategies, the writers examine the relations among design, technology, and social organization to show how design has become a complex and multidisciplinary activity. The second section provides examples of new methods of interpreting and analyzing design, ranging from rhetoric and semiotics to phenomenology, demonstrating how meaning is created visually. A final section related to design history shifts its emphasis to ideological frameworks such as capitalism and patriarchy that establish boundaries for the production and use of design. IMC Journal International Micrographic Congress, 1988 Business Education Index, 1984

An author and subject index of business education articles compiled from a selected list of periodicals and yearbooks published during the year. Understanding the Implementation of Office Technology Tora K. Bikson, 1987 This Note, which originally appeared in Technology and the Transformation of White Collar Work, Chapter 9, Lawrence Erlbaum Associates, Inc. 1987, considers the factors that lead to the successful introduction of new office technology in an organization. It is based on a survey of 55 work groups using advanced office technology in 26 organizations. Success includes the extent to which the technology is used, the users' satisfaction with it and with the jobs they perform using it, and improvements in organizational performance. Features of the organization itself, features of the technology, and the way the technology is introduced into the organization all play a role. For example, work groups in which the implementation used a balanced social and technical approach and encouraged worker participation in the introduction process all had more successful implementations. The Note concludes with observations about areas where technology implementation process and research all need improvement.
