The Changing American Neighborhood

Alan Mallach, Todd Swanstrom, 2023-08-15 The Changing American Neighborhood argues that the physical and social spaces created by neighborhoods matter more than ever for the health and well being of twenty first century Americans and their communities Taking a long historical view this book explores the many dimensions of today's neighborhoods the forms they take the forces and factors influencing them and the people and organizations trying to change them Challenging conventional interpretations of neighborhoods and neighborhood change Alan Mallach and Todd Swanstrom adopt a broad interdisciplinary perspective that shows how neighborhoods are messy complex systems in which change is driven by constant feedback loops that link social economic and physical conditions each within distinct spatial and political contexts The Changing American Neighborhood seeks to understand neighborhoods and neighborhood change not only for their own importance but for the insights they offer to help guide people's efforts sustaining good neighborhoods and rebuilding struggling ones

Recommended Resource Feels Right Kemi Adeyemi, 2022-08-29 In Feels Right Kemi Adeyemi presents an ethnography of how black queer women in Chicago use dance to assert their physical and affective rights to the city Adeyemi stages the book in queer dance parties in gentrifying neighborhoods where good feelings are good business But feeling good is elusive for black queer women whose nightlives are undercut by white people heterosexuality neoliberal capitalism burnout and other buzzkills Adeyemi documents how black queer women respond to these conditions how they destroy DJ booths argue with one another dance slowly and stop partying altogether Their practices complicate our expectations that life at night on the queer dance floor or among black queer community simply feels good Adeyemi's framework of feeling right instead offers a closer kinesthetic look at how black queer women adroitly manage feeling itself as a complex right they should be afforded in cities that violently structure their movements and energies What emerges in Feels Right is a sensorial portrait of the critical black queer geographies and collectivities that emerge in social dance settings and in the broader neoliberal city Duke University Press Scholars of Color First Book Award recipient Bulletin, 1923 Neighborhood Resilience and Urban Conflict Karina V. Korostelina, 2021-10-21 This book explores the resilience in urban neighborhoods affected by chronic conflict and violence developing a new model for improving resilience policies The neighborhood resilience approach is an inclusive form of building positive resilience which recognizes that local communities possess valuable skills and experience of dealing with crises and prioritizes the agency of local communities in the production of knowledge and developing practices The book identifies and describes the repertoire of neighborhood resilience practices organized in four clusters 1 addressing the structure of conflict 2 increasing the effectiveness of external resources 3 enhancing the community capacities and 4 reflecting the dynamics of identity and power in neighborhoods One of the key findings of the book is the nonlinear connections between structure and dynamics of conflict and neighborhood resilience practices represented in the Four Loops Model The concentration on community based practices addresses macro level critiques of neo liberalism in critical resilience studies and encourages rethinking the ways community based indicators might operate in combination with existing macro indicators of resilience The bottom up indicators provide more specific details and essential localized experiences for improving resilience policies at the national level This book will be of much interest to students of conflict resolution resilience urban studies and US politics The Social Areas of Otsego County Dwight Sanderson, 1923
