Sign Language Interpreting Sharon Neumann Solow, 1981

Non-professional Interpreting and Translation

Rachele Antonini, Letizia Cirillo, Linda Rossato, Ira Torresi, 2017-06-15 In the light of recent waves of mass immigration non professional interpreting and translation NPIT is spreading at an unprecedented pace While as recently as the late 20th century much of the field was a largely uncharted territory the current proportions of NPIT suggest that the phenomenon is here to stay and needs to be studied with all due academic rigour This collection of essays is the first systematic attempt at looking at NPIT in a scholarly and at the same time pragmatic way Offering multiple methods and perspectives and covering the diverse contexts in which NPIT takes place the volume is a welcome turn in an all too often polarized debate in both academic and practitioner circles

Learning to Interpret Campbell McDermid, 2018-08-01

American Sign Language interpretation involves more than translating words into signs From his decades of experience as an interpreter educator Campbell McDermid keenly understands this approach McDermid s teachings are grounded in linguistics research and theory and his text aptly combines theoretical and practical exercises through use of examples targeted exercises and development of skills that are critical to the interpreting process Learning to Interpret introduces a number of basic linguistic concepts and provides a guide for translating English to ASL Students of interpretation will better understand how to paraphrase from an English source to an English target text allowing them to more accurately translate the final text into ASL

Sign Language Interpreting

Melanie Metzger, 1999 As with all professional interpreters sign language interpreters strive to achieve the proper protocol of complete objectivity and accuracy in their translation without influencing the interaction in any way Yet Melanie Metzger s significant work Sign Language Interpreting Deconstructing the Myth of Neutrality demonstrates clearly that the ideal of an interpreter as a neutral language conduit does not exist Metzger offers evidence of this disparity by analyzing two video taped ASL English interpreted medical interviews one an interpreter trainee mock interview session and the other an actual encounter between a deaf client and a medical professional

The Sign Language Interpreting Studies Reader Cynthia B. Roy, Jemina Napier, 2015-07-15 In Sign Language Interpreting SLI there is a great need for a volume devoted to classic and seminal articles and essays dedicated to this specific domain of language interpreting Students educators and practitioners will benefit from having access to a collection of historical and influential articles that contributed to the progress of the global SLI profession In SLI there is a long history of outstanding research and scholarship much of which is now out of print or was published in obscure journals or featured in publications that are no longer in print These readings are significant to the progression of SLI as an academic discipline and a profession As the years have gone by many of these readings have been lost to students educators and practitioners because they are difficult to locate or unavailable or because this audience simply does not know they exist This volume brings together the seminal texts in our field that document the philosophical evidence based and analytical progression of SLI work

Sign Language Interpreting and Interpreter Education Marc Marschark, 2005-04-14 This text provides an overview of the field of sign language interpreting and interpreter education including evaluation of the extent to which current practices are supported by research and will be of use both as a reference book and as a textbook for interpreter training programmes

Deaf Education Beyond the Western World Harry Knoors, Maria Brons, Marc Marschark, 2019-01-16 If teachers want to educate deaf learners effectively they have to apply evidence informed methods and didactics with the needs of individual deaf students in mind Education in general and education for deaf learners in particular is situated in broader societal contexts where what works within the Western world may be quite different from what works beyond the Western world By exploring practice based and research based evidence about deaf education in countries that largely have been left out of the international discussion thus far this volume encourages more researchers in more countries to continue investigating the learning environment of deaf learners based on the premise of leaving no one behind Featuring chapters centering on 19 countries from Africa Asia Latin America and Central and Eastern Europe the volume offers a picture of deaf education from the perspectives of local scholars and teachers who demonstrate best practices and challenges within their respective regional contexts This volume addresses the notion of learning through the exchange of knowledge outlines the commonalities and differences between practices and policies in educating deaf and hard of hearing learners and looks ahead to the prospects for the future development of deaf education research in the context of recently adopted international legal frameworks Stimulating academic exchange regionally and globally among scholars and teachers who are fascinated by and invested in deaf education this volume strengthens the foundation for further improvement of education for deaf children all around the world
