- Process structure in manufacturing
- Process re-engineering
- Process improvement
- Process analysis

What is Process Strategy? - Answer Process

Use of organizations _RESOURCES_ to provide something of _VALUE_

Process Strategy

The pattern of _DECISIONS_ made in _MANAGING_ so that they will achieve their _COMPETITIVE PRIORITIES_

Process decisions directly affect the process itself and indirectly the services and the products that it provides. All parts of an organization, as well as external suppliers and customers across the supply chain, need to be involved to ensure that processes are providing the most value to their internal and external customers.

Effective Process Design - Answer We begin by defining four basic process decisions:

-o- Customer-contact position (services)

-o- Product-process position (manufacturing)
