The Politics of Visual Language James Roots, 1999 The Politics of Visual Language is a ground breaking study of the political socialization of children who are deaf Debate has raged for years over how to educate the prelingually deaf those children who cannot acquire language normally that is orally and aurally While the battlelines have been drawn by the proponents of oralism versus manualism and their hearing supporters two linguistic dilemmas facing D deaf people remain constant a conscious choice is always made for them as to the way they will be taught and either method of language acquisition results in a form of marginalization

Archaeology and the Politics of Vision in a Post-modern Context Julian Thomas, Vítor Oliveira Jorge, 2008 Archaeology is intimately connected to the modern regime of vision A concern with optics was fundamental to the Scientific Revolution and informed the moral theories of the Enlightenment And from its inception archaeology was concerned with practices of depiction and classification that were profoundly scopic in character Drawing on both the visual arts and the depictive practices of the sciences employing conventionalised forms of illustration photography and spatial technologies archaeology presents a paradigm of visualised knowledge However a number of thinkers from Jean Paul Sartre onwards have cautioned that vision presents at once a partial and a politicised way of apprehending the world In this volume authors from archaeology and other disciplines address the problems that face the study of the past in an era in which realist modes of representation and the philosophies
