Shorts: Thinking machines Isaac Asimov, Martin Harry Greenberg, Charles Gordon Waugh, 1981 American Mythologies William Blazek, Michael K. Glenday, 2005-01-01 In its more than three decades of existence the discipline of American studies has been reliably unreliable its boundaries and assumptions forever shifting as it continuously repositions itself to better address the changing character of American life literature and culture American Mythologies is a challenging new look at the current reinvention of American studies a reinvention that has questioned the whole notion of what American let alone American studies means Essays in the collection range widely in considering these questions from the effect of Muhammad Ali on Norman Mailer s writings about boxing to the interactions of myth and memory in the fictions of Jayne Anne Phillips to the conflicted portrayal of the American West in Cormac McCarthy s novels Four essays in the collection focus on Native American authors including Leslie Marmon Silko and Gerald Vizenor while another considers Louise Erdrich s novels in the context of Ojibwa myth By bringing together perspectives on American studies from both Europe and America American Mythologies provides a clear picture of the current state of the discipline while pointing out fruitful directions for its future

Best "Thinking Machine" Detective Stories Jacques Futrelle, 1973 41 Above the Rest Bud Webster, 2004-10-01 Groff Conklin was the most important science fiction anthologist through the years of the genre s true second generation that point at which its previously magazine bound masterpieces were being systemtically located aligned and placed into permanent format His contribution over the period of two decades was irreplaceable and all of our postwar history exists in the penumbra of his work Bud Webster has in this index granted an act of scholarship and homage of equal irreplaceability Barry Malzberg author and editor Science Fiction and Fantasy Literature: Indexes to the literature R. Reginald, 1979

The Thinking Machine Charles Judson Herrick, 1929 This is a book about the natural history of human nature It is not a book about philosophy for philosophers It is a plain and straightforward statement for ordinary people of what another very ordinary sort of man who has considerable experience with the mechanisms of human life and how they work thinks about it all We all want to understand human nature better because it is our nature The better we understand it the more likely we are to get along with ourselves our neighbors and our surroundings in general We want to make life more worth while to get as much out of it as we can and to put as much into it as we can to make a better living and to have as much fun doing it as possible We need to know how we live what the apparatus of life is and how it works in order to make a better job of it
