Reproduction of Death Valley in '49 William Lewis Manly,1977 Library of Congress Catalogs Library of Congress,1980 Death Valley In '49 William Lewis Manly,2013-06-17 St Albans Vermont is near the eastern shore of Lake Champlain and only a short distance south of Five and forty north degrees which separates the United States from Canada and some sixty or seventy miles from the great St Lawrence River and the city of Montreal Near here it was on April 6th 1820 I was born so the record says and from this point with wondering eyes of childhood I looked across the waters of the narrow lake to the slopes of the Adirondack mountains in New York green as the hills of my own Green Mountain State The parents of my father were English people and lived near Hartford Connecticut where he was born While still a little boy he came with his parents to Vermont My mother s maiden name was Phoebe Calkins born near St Albans of Welch parents and being left an orphan while yet in very tender years she was given away to be reared by people who provided food and clothes but permitted her to grow up to womanhood without knowing how to read or write After her marriage she learned to do both and acquired the rudiments of an education Grandfather and his boys four in all fairly carved a farm out of the big forest that covered the cold rocky hills Giant work it was for them in such heavy timber pine hemlock maple beech and birch the clearing of a single acre being a man s work for a year The place where the maples were thickest was reserved for a sugar grove and from it was made all of the sweet material they needed and some besides Economy of the very strictest kind had to be used in every direction Main strength and muscle were the only things dispensed in plenty The crops raised consisted of a small flint corn rye oats potatoes and turnips Three cows ten or twelve sheep a few pigs and a yoke of strong oxen comprised the live stock horses they had none for many years A great ox cart was the only wheeled vehicle on the place and this in winter gave place to a heavy sled the runners cut from a tree having a natural crook and roughly but strongly made In summer there were plenty of strawberries raspberries whortleberries and blackberries growing wild but all the cultivated fruit was apples As these ripened many were peeled by hand cut in quarters strung on long strings of twine and dried before the kitchen fire for winter use They had a way of burying up some of the best keepers in the ground and opening the apple hole was quite an event of early spring

Country Never Trod Michael D. Kane,2022-09-01 William Lewis Manly was a forty niner explorer and humanitarian whose story most people have never heard Born in Vermont William Lewis Manly was drawn out west by the lure of gold Previous scholarship claims that the Yankee frontiersman floated only 290 miles down the Green River to the Uinta Basin but author Michael D Kane s research of primary source materials led him to the conclusion that Manly actually traveled 415 miles all the way to what is now Green River Utah This would make Manly the first to explore much of the Green River by boat twenty years before John Wesley Powell s famous expedition Determined to prove his theory and establish Manly s legacy as a trailblazer Kane conducted research and then built his own wooden canoes and made the trip tracing Manly s footsteps and comparing notes with the earlier traveler Country Never Trod follows Manly s little known expedition down the Green River and his overland trek through some of the most desolate stretches of Utah interspersed with Kane's journal entries and photographs documenting his own trip Death Valley '49ers Frank F. The Political Culture of the New West shows how westerners have expressed themselves within a complex often contradictory and constantly changing political culture and helps explain why no electoral outcome in this part of America can be predicted for certain
