Research And Development Project Selection:

Research and Development Jackson Eugene Ramsey,1986 Research and Development Project Selection Richard George Brandenburg,1964 Research and Development Project Selection Joseph P. Martino,1995-03-20 Just as importantly this unique guide provides R D managers with clear guidelines on how to effectively tailor the various selection methods discussed to meet the demands of their organizations unique situations and goals Research and Development Project Selection Jeremy Michael Pitts,Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Department of Mechanical Engineering,Sloan School of Management,Leaders for Global Operations Program,2010 Successful research and development is critical in ensuring firms continue to meet customer needs and stay ahead of their competition Hundreds of billions of dollars are spent every year on these R D pursuits It may seem logical that the more money a company spends on R D the more successful they will be However multiple studies have shown there is no significant correlation between a firm s R D expenditures and its financial performance The key to effective R D is not how much a firm spends but how well the money is spent There are two sides of doing R D effectively doing the right projects and doing projects right This thesis focuses primarily on the first side creating a process to help a company choose the best projects to pursue A significant amount of literature exists in this area however that literature mostly focuses on R D performed at original equipment manufacturers OEMs For OEMs R D is the first step in a product development process where the company has the ultimate decision over the form their product takes This thesis expands on that literature to focus on R D project selection for firms that act as suppliers to OEMs Suppliers performing R D are faced with significant additional challenges due to the OEM having final say over the product configuration Suppliers have uncertainties about whether they are pursuing the right technology along with whether they will actually win business to utilize that technology This fact often forces suppliers to adopt a conservative R D strategy with a fairly secure likelihood of adoption over speculative R D that might not come to fruition Because every company and every industry is different and has different priorities for their R D activities there is no single process that will work at every company to help them choose a better portfolio of R D projects Instead this thesis presents a set of guidelines that can be used to help companies especially suppliers with conservative R D strategies design their own process Along with those guidelines a case study is presented based on implementing an R D project selection process at Spirit AeroSystems The process that was implemented along with problems encountered with that process and ideas for further improvements are discussed Lessons learned from Spirit AeroSystems can further be utilized to help companies create better project selection processes Management ,1968 The Sequence Effect on the Selection of R&D Projects in Panel Decision-Making Paola Criscuolo,2020 We examine how groups fall prey to the sequence effect when they make choices based on informed assessments of complex situations for example when evaluating research and development R D projects The core argument is that the temporal sequence of selection matters because projects that appear in a sequence following a funded project are themselves less likely to receive funding Building on the idea that selecting R D projects is a demanding process that drains participants mental and emotional resources we further theorize the moderating effect of the influence of the timing of the panel meeting on the sequence effect We test these conjectures using a randomization in sequence order from several rounds of R D project selection at a leading professional service firm We find robust support for the existence of a sequence effect in R D as well as for the moderating effect We further explore different explanations for the sequence effect and how it passes from the individual to the panel These findings have broader implications for the literatures on innovation and search in general and on group decision making for R D specifically as they suggest that a previously overlooked dimension affects selection outcomes NASA SP-7500 United States. National Aeronautics and Space Administration, Five-year Strategic Plan for Railroad Research, Development, and Demonstrations United States. Federal Railroad Administration,2002 Quantitative Management in R & D C. J. Beattie,R. D. Reader,2013-11-11 Our aim in writing this book has been to present for R D Managers at all levels the type of quantitative methods that have been developed in recent years for the more efficient management of R D Hence we have sought to write for anyone connected with the control of R D from the Directors responsible for the R D effort of a large organization to the scientist in charge of one or two individual projects Many of the techniques which we describe have appeared in recent years in the technical journals often in a largely theoretical form Few however have been made generally available in the management literature and it has been our intention to fill this need In doing this we have concentrated on the tactical aspects of R D Management for example project evaluation and research programme selection To set these in context we have also sought briefly to show how the R D programme stems from the objectives of an organization as regards overall research strategy We have thus dealt with quantitative management techniques that have seen practical application in R D laboratories and have described a number of actual applications to illustrate the method of use in practice For the sake of simplicity we have referred to Appendices all detailed mathematics and other material not essential to an understanding of the main theme We trust that the reader will discover something of use in these pages Research Management ,1985

Management, a Continuing Literature Survey with Indexes ,1969 IEEE Engineering Management Conference ,1988 A Decision Support System for R&D Project Selection and Resource Allocation Under Uncertainty M. Güven Iyigün,1993 Due to the complex nature of Research and Development project selection project managers need to choose projects carefully before beginning or continuing a project A framework and model of a Decision Support System DSS is presented as an effective tool to help choose projects using complex criteria such as risk cost decision hierarchies as well as attempting to meet profit human resources and budget objectives The DSS is comprised of three phases which are divided into modules Screening and Scoring Assessment and Resource Allocation which uses the PROTRADE method The computerized Delphi DSS model will aid an organization by integrating decisions regarding projects across multilevel interrelated subunits that are attempting to achieve the same goal The DSS model offers the solution to the semi structured nature of R D decisions by outlining a method for better insight into the decision making process as well as providing alternative scenarios when resolving problems

Current Literature on Science of Science ,1984 Research and Development Project Selection Methods at the Air Force Wright Aeronautical Laboratories Jeremy R. Prince,AIR FORCE INST OF TECH WRIGHT-PATTERSON AFB OH SCHOOL OF SYSTEMS AND LOGISTICS.,1985 This thesis sought to determine how in house research projects are selected at the U S Air Force Wright Aeronautical Laboratories AFWAL The problem was explored by studying ten aspects of the research project selection process This analysis was accomplished by using a combination of personal and telephone interviews Ten individuals from each of the four AFWAL Laboratories were interviewed The results illustrated that few of the respondents used a formal decision method model when selecting research projects Most of the in house projects selected at AFWAL are chosen via a consensus of agreement between the various levels of management in each laboratory
