Research Methods For Postgraduates:

Research Methods for Postgraduates Tony Greenfield, Sue Greener, 2016-10-17 An indispensable reference for postgraduates providing up to date guidance in all subject areas Methods for Postgraduates brings together guidance for postgraduate students on how to organise plan and do research from an interdisciplinary perspective In this new edition the already wide ranging coverage is enhanced by the addition of new chapters on social media evaluating the research process Kansei engineering and medical research reporting The extensive updates also provide the latest guidance on issues relevant to postgraduates in all subject areas from writing a proposal and securing research funds to data analysis and the presentation of research through to intellectual property protection and career opportunities This thoroughly revised new edition provides Clear and concise advice from distinguished international researchers on how to plan organise and conduct research New chapters explore social media in research evaluate the research process Kansei engineering and discuss the reporting of medical research Check lists and diagrams throughout Praise for the second edition the most useful book any new postgraduate could ever buy New Scientist The book certainly merits its acceptance as essential reading for postgraduates and will be valuable to anyone associated in any way with research or with presentation of technical or scientific information of any kind Robotica Like its predecessors the third edition of Research Methods for Postgraduates is accessible and comprehensive and is a must read for any postgraduate student

Research Methods Tony Greenfield, 1996-12-02 The authors wrote this book as reference guide for postgraduate students that will assist them on how to organize plan and do research in most subject areas The book is divided into sections which cover the general management of research different types of research data measurement data analysis modeling and simulation presentation and more

Research Methods for Postgraduates Tony Greenfield, 2009-04-20 This new edition of Research Methods for Postgraduates is a response both to the success of the first edition and to the rapid change in methods and technology in this area This book is unique in bringing together guidance for postgraduate students on how to organise plan and do research from an interdisciplinary perspective The wide ranging coverage of the first edition is enhanced by the addition of new chapter on creativity the use of the web in research guides to writing and the use of software packages Updates are provided on issues relevant to postgraduates in all subjects from writing a proposal and securing research funds to data analysis and the presentation of research through to intellectual property protection and career opportunities Like its predecessor the second edition of Research Methods for Postgraduates is accessible and comprehensive and is a must for any postgraduate student

Teaching Research Methodology to Postgraduates Robert Burgess, 1979 Research Methods for Education

Peter Newby, 2013-11-04 Written with the novice educational researcher in mind Research Methods in Education is designed to help students produce good quality valid and valuable research The text is written in an engaging style and adopts a mixed methods approach guidance on analytical procedures that require more advanced tools such as SPSS and Minitab are also provided The book is packed with exercises examples and comparative international material from other educational contexts all of which help to introduce this complex subject in an easy to use format for people that are new to research and are not confident with numerical information Peter Newby s student friendly text allows the researcher to confidently address the practical aspects of deciding on a research project designing a questionnaire or presenting conclusions in the most convincing way Of the many research books available this one stands out as it is clear logically structured explains sophisticated concepts in an accessible manner without oversimplifying them and has a format which students at undergraduate and postgraduate like In addition the powerpoint slides that accompany the book provide an excellent basis for lectures and can be edited adopted to personalise them I anticipate using this book for quite some time on several courses

Navigating Complexity in Postgraduate/Graduate Health Professions Education: Innovative Pedagogical Approaches and Assessment Strategies Shaista S. Guraya, Nabil Zary, Preman Rajalingam, 2025-12-19

In the realm of adult learning graduate and postgraduate education teaching and assessment strategies are usually an extension of undergraduate strategies without contextualizing the different needs of this learner community Unlike undergraduate learners graduate and postgraduate learners are a population of different skills and attributes carrying strong academic professional and social personal identities To strengthen this relationship of personal and professional self adult learner goes through the functional enculturation critical thinking and emancipation stages While believing in relevance to their practice they capitalize on their prior knowledge and bring complexity to the learning context using their varied experiences and needs Despite years of research into andragogy and interesting findings on the differences in learning e.g attention working memory executive function etc in an ageing adult brain it is harder to make any claim about dramatically different teaching and learning needs of adult learners Additionally there is an inadequacy of research tapping into the effectiveness of collaborative flexible self directed and reflective learning and formative competency based assessment in this learner population To strengthen healthcare systems we aim to curate a research collection of articles considering teaching and assessment strategies for adult learners to create a holistic and comprehensive snapshot of the preferences and needs of adults in the context of postgraduate health professions education This article collection lead will focus on the studies exploring innovative learning and assessment strategies within the context of graduate and postgraduate health professions education This area will also include the integration of AI and competency based education to address the intricacies associated with graduate and postgraduate degrees particularly in nursing medicine allied health physiotherapy dental and interdisciplinary teams With a specific emphasis on adult learners the contributions should seek to identify effective pedagogical approaches tailored to the unique learner characteristics and challenges posed by diverse healthcare disciplines We also aim to consider the limited availability of educational collections in this domain and provide insights that will be beneficial for the potential audience including educators program developers and practitioners Manuscript submissions must focus on graduate and postgraduate health professions education and could consider such themes as for example but not limited to Investigation of the needs and preferences of adult graduate and postgraduate learners as they differ from undergraduates Novel teaching and assessment strategies for adult learners or assessment of the effectiveness of current strategies Applications of AI and other new technologies in graduate and postgraduate education Differences in effective pedagogical approaches across graduate and postgraduate education in diverse healthcare disciplines Exploration of educational strategies that align with the age related changes in neurophysiological and cognitive profiles of adults The educational strategies may include adaptive technologies cognitive training interventions or teaching and learning approaches We welcome original research systematic reviews policy and practice reviews hypothesis and theory perspectives clinical trials community case studies curriculum instruction and pedagogy data report and brief research report specific to the context of this collection We don t accept opinion and commentary manuscripts Topic Editor Nabil Zary has received research grants from Pfizer and GE Healthcare independent medical education grants with no involvement from the funders All other Topic Editors declare no conflicts of interest

Critical Reading and Writing for Postgraduates Mike Wallace, Alison Wray, 2006-05-09 A systematic coherent approach to developing critical reading and writing skills that are applicable to a range of different levels of analysis and types of reading and writing tasks The authors are to be commended for the clarity of their writing and the way scaffolded advice and tasks are integrated into the text The book could form the core text for a course on critical reading and writing and a useful reference tool for the academic recently entered upon writing for publication Educate Journal A very clear accessible introduction that will be invaluable to postgraduate students trying to engage with reading and writing in a critical way R M Lee Professor of Social Research Methods Royal Holloway University of London This guide to critical reading and self critical writing is a must have resource for postgraduate students and early career academics Packed with tools for analysing texts and structuring critical reviews and incorporating exercises and worked examples drawn from the social sciences the book offers step by step advice on how to read any text critically and analyse it in the depth appropriate to one s project develop a self critical approach to one s own academic writing ask questions in order to evaluate authors arguments keep a review manageable by using focused review questions structure a comparative review of multiple texts build up a convincing argument integrate critical literature reviews into a dissertation or thesis make the transition from postgraduate to professional academic writer Essential reading for novice researchers the book will also be invaluable for supervisors methods course tutors and academic mentors who teach and support the development of critical reading and self critical writing skills
