The system is tested with several scenarios of increasing complexity, culminating with the legal interpretation of traffic intersection images.

The authors would like to thank Andrew Davison for much help with the implementation language of this project, and for providing exceptional advice on ideas, papers and this book. We must also acknowledge the Computer Vision and Machine Intelligence Laboratory at Melbourne University as a whole for providing a stimulating and lighthearted atmosphere for intellectual jousting. The Computer Science Department must be recognized for providing a supportive role in the work involved. We would like to acknowledge the Australian Computer Graphics Centre of the Royal Melbourne Institute of Technology, and in particular Gordon Lescinsky and Mike Gigante, for their help in obtaining traffic video and digitizing it. Finally, the first author would
