

Cat. I don't think anyone can argue with the statement that of the small handful of people who have attempted concept transformations, Cat has taken it farther – and more convincingly – than anyone else. His face has been transformed through a solid layer of tattooing, as well as multiple sessions with Mexican plastic surgeons injecting liquid silicone. His ears have been reshaped, as has his lip, with his septum pulled down to match. He has hard silicone implants in his brow, and nylon whiskers on his lip. He wears permanent cat-fanged dentures and catlike contact lenses. His nails are claws, and he's in the process of acquiring a tail. The answer to "Why" is his heritage – Cat is a Native American who deeply associates with his totem animal, the cat. As a part of his lifelong shamanic journey, he does everything he can bring himself closer to that totem. On top of being a tiger, Cat is also a talented electrical engineer.
