Power And Protectionism:

Power and Protectionism David B. Yoffie,1983 Examines the linkage between power politics and foreign trade with a focus on how politics and power relations could affect patterns of trade Power and Protectionism Nora Thiessen,2010

Power, Protection, and Free Trade David A. Lake,2018-03-15 Why do nations so frequently abandon unrestricted international commerce in favor of trade protectionism David A Lake contends that the dominant explanation interest group theory does not adequately explain American trade strategy or address the contradictory elements of cooperation and conflict that shape the international economy Power Protection and Free Trade offers an alternative systemic approach to trade strategy that builds on the interaction between domestic and international factors In this innovative book Lake maintains that both protection and free trade are legitimate and effective instruments of national policy the considered responses of nations to varying international structures Growth, Trade, and Systemic Leadership Rafael

Reuveny,William R. Thompson,2009-12-21 Proposes an innovative argument for the existence of world governance

Managing Energy Security Maria G. Burns,2019-03-29 This interdisciplinary book is written for government and industry professionals who need a comprehensive accessible guide to modern energy security Introducing the ten predominant energy types both renewable and non renewable the book illustrates the modern energy landscape from a geopolitical commercial economic and technological perspective Energy is presented as the powerhouse of global economic activities To ensure the uninterrupted supply of energy nations industries and consumers need to have options Efficient energy security planning ensures that when a primary energy source is depleted compromised or interrupted an alternative energy source must be readily available For this reason the foundations of energy security are built upon the five pillars of Sustainability Independence Efficiency Affordability and Accessibility The numerous case studies presented in this book demonstrate that energy security may be compromised in the absence of one out of these five ingredients The book also entertains the Triple E notion of Energy Efficiency Environmental integrity and Economies of scale used by governments and corporations for energy optimization One of the key strengths of the book is its ability effectively to cover various scientific disciplines and several energy types while remaining comprehensible This book will be of much interest to security or logistics professionals economists and engineers as well as policymakers Power, Protection, and Free Trade David A. Lake,1990 Middle

Powers in Asia Pacific Multilateralism Sarah Teo,2022-11-25 Drawing on insights from differentiation theory this book examines the participation of middle powers in multilateralism Taking Australia Indonesia and South Korea as examples the book examines these countries roles in regional organizations and particularly during the creation of the Asia Pacific Economic Cooperation APEC and East Asia Summit Through its analysis the book argues that middle powers pursue dilution of major power stratificatory forces as well as functionally differentiated roles for themselves in multilateral diplomacy The book sets out a valuable new framework to explain and understand the behaviour of middle powers in multilateralism

EuroDiversity George F. Simons, 2012-09-11 How has cultural diversity affected the business climate of the growing European Union What are European institutions and enterprises doing to manage it In EuroDiversity Dr Simons gathers issue centered perspectives on how Europe's entwined past present and future have made it the most strikingly diverse part of the world and what this means for doing business there EuroDiversity provides Insights into Europe's cultural challenges of globalization diversity dilemmas and opportunities Case studies best practices and resources for finding the common ground and developing the competence needed to succeed EuroDiversity addresses how cultural diversity affects the business climate of the growing European Union and describes what European institutions and successful organizations are doing to manage it The book's multinational team of authors gives us issue centered perspectives on how Europe's entwined past present and future have made it the most strikingly diverse part of the world and what this means for doing business there They address Europe's cultural challenges of globalization and provide abundant insights into diversity dilemmas and opportunities They point to the best practices and resources that will assist both European enterprises and those actively present in or trading with Europe to find the cultural common ground and competence they need to succeed Contributors Arjen Bos Marie Th r se Claes Ph D Elena A A Garcea Ph D Nigel Holden Ph D Michael Stuber The EU's Role in World

Politics Richard Youngs, 2010-09-13 This book argues that in a range of policy areas trade multilateral diplomacy security development cooperation democracy and human rights energy security the EU appears to be in retreat from liberal internationalism Who Adjusts? Beth A. Simmons, 2020-03-31 In this work Beth Simmons presents a fresh view of why governments decided to abide by or defect from the gold standard during the 1920s and 1930s Previous studies of the spread of the Great Depression have emphasized tit for tat currency and tariff manipulation and a subsequent cycle of destructive competition Simmons on the other hand analyzes the influence of domestic politics on national responses to the international economy In so doing she powerfully confirms that different political regimes choose different economic adjustment strategies

Cotton International, 1985 Autonomy and interdependence Thomas L. Ilgen, 1985 Annual Editions: American Foreign Policy Glenn P. Hastedt, 2005-10 This edition presents an overview of American foreign policy It is divided into eight units The first unit addresses questions of grand strategy The second unit focuses on selected regional and bilateral relations In the third unit the attention shifts inward to the ways in which domestic forces affect the content of American foreign policy The fourth unit looks at the institutions that make American foreign policy In the fifth unit the process by which American foreign policy is made is illustrated through accounts of recent foreign policy decisions The sixth and seventh units provide an overview of the economic and military issues confronting the United States today The final unit looks in depth at the issues surrounding the war in Iraq and its aftermath from a variety of different perspectives Pref

Harvard Business School Bulletin, 1983 Electric Power John C. Moorhouse, 1986 American Economist, 1912

The New Protectionism Robert E. Baldwin, 1986 The new protectionism threatening the international trading regime is related to significant structural changes in world production that have brought about a decline in the dominant economic position of the United States a concomitant rise of the European Community and Japan to international economic prominence and the emergence of a highly competitive group of newly industrializing countries For the United States the adjustment process has been difficult Government and business leaders have gradually adopted the view that unfair foreign trading practices are the main cause of the country s competitive problems By focussing on a more vigorous enforcement of US statutes and GATT rules on fair trade they are able to press for import protection and still maintain that they support the type of open trading regime the United States did so much to establish after World War II While it is possible that particular protectionism will continue to spread and lead to an essentially closed international trading order a more sanguine outcome supported of the three major trading powers seems possible This is the emergence of a regime characterized by more trade distorting government interventions than at the height of American hegemonic influence and by the existence of a significant group of industries receiving government assistance However while new industries will be added to this group assistance will be withdrawn from others as they lose political influence so that on balance the list need not increase over time or if it does only very slowly Such a regime will not yield the growth and efficiency benefits of an open trading system but at least it will not lead to the disastrous economic and political consequences brought about by the trading order that prevailed in the 1930 s
