Abstract

In this article, I think of Berlin's techno club Berghain as a form of relational aesthetics where encounters mediated by tactile sounds, labyrinthine architecture, and libido-enhancing drugs create an unusually porous sexual subjectivity. By sketching out some changes in the composition of the club's crowd and drug culture – a shift towards aphrodisiac substances such as G and mephedrone – I argue that Berghain has become a specific pharmacofidinal constellation. Especially the recreational drug G can be thought of as an unruly liquid that concretises queer theory's preoccupation with sexual fluidity. Instead of nausea-inducing drugs in combination with same-sex erotica – a popular technique in so-called 'aversion therapy' – this is a 'gay conversion therapy' in reverse whereby erotic horizons expand and multiply through the combination of chemicals and a multi-sensory overload of pleasurable stimuli. Rather than thinking of sexual orientation as located inside the body, I suggest, we might think of it as located inside the building.

Introduction

Renowned for its austere techno, industrial architecture, and clean sound system, Berlin's techno club Berghain has often been treated with the same reverence as fine art. After a successful court case with Berlin-Brandenburg in 2016, it was recategorised as an arts venue and taxed at the same rate as an opera house or museum, while during the Covid-19 pandemic, the club turned into a gallery for the Boros Foundation's Studio Berlin exhibition. In normal times, events take place regularly in different parts of the sprawling building every week: concerts in Halle and Kantine, fetish-themed nights in Lab, the male-only adjacent wing of the ground floor, experimental music in Säule, house and disco in Panoramabar, but the big weekly event is Klubnacht when the three main floors are open. Klubnacht, which

Sexual Disorientation:

Understanding the Sexual Betrayal of Boys and Men Richard B. Gartner, 2017-08-15 Understanding the Sexual Betrayal of Boys and Men The Trauma of Sexual Abuse is an indispensable go to book for understanding male sexual victimization It has become increasingly clear since the 1980s that men and boys like women and girls are sexually abused and assaulted in alarming numbers Yet there have been few resources available to victims their loved ones or those trying to help them Richard B Gartner was in the vanguard of clinicians treating male sexual victimization and has written extensively about it initially in professional papers then in his landmark 1999 book for clinicians Betrayed as Boys Psychodynamic Treatment of Sexually Abused Men continuing with his 2005 work Beyond Betrayal Taking Charge of Your Life after Boyhood Sexual Abuse He has been a tireless teacher clinician and advocate for male victims of sexual abuse in the classroom the lecture hall and of course the consulting room as well as in newspaper television radio and online interviews Dr Gartner has gathered together expert colleagues from the trauma psychoanalytic medical and survivor treatment fields Together they have created a comprehensive guide to what was once thought to be a rarity but now is clearly an all too common occurrence Understanding the Sexual Betrayal of Boys and Men looks at the realities of male sexual victimization guiding clinicians and lay people alike to understand the complexities of the devastation it causes in victimized boys and men It considers topics as diverse as sexual assault in institutions like the military sports teams schools universities and religious organizations sex trafficking of boys and adolescents neurobiology and brain chemistry of male survivors of sexual abuse gender and sexual dysfunctions and confusions resulting from sexual exploitation and trauma physicians treatment of sexually abused men s medical problems socio cultural influences on processing and treating men s and boys sexual victimization Understanding the Sexual Betrayal of Boys and Men is required reading for anyone working with male victims of sexual abuse and assault at any level psychotherapists rape counselors attorneys journalists guidance counselors physicians clergy graduate students and lawmakers and helpful to lay people interested in this often unrecognized problem Cruisy, Sleepy, Melancholy Nicholas de Villiers, 2022-09-27 A brilliant approach to the queerness of one of Taiwan s greatest auteurs A critical figure in queer Sinophone cinema and the first director ever commissioned to create a film for the permanent collection of the Louvre Tsai Ming liang is a major force in Taiwan cinema and global moving image art Cruisy Sleepy Melancholy offers a fascinating systematic method for analyzing the queerness of Tsai s films Nicholas de Villiers argues that Tsai expands and revises the notion of queerness by engaging with the sexuality of characters who are migrants tourists diasporic or otherwise displaced Through their lack of fixed identities these characters offer a clear challenge to the binary division between heterosexuality and homosexuality as well as the Orientalist binary division of Asia versus the West Ultimately de Villiers explores how Tsai s films help us understand queerness in terms of spatial temporal and sexual disorientation Conceiving of Tsai s cinema as an intertextual network Cruisy Sleepy Melancholy makes an important addition to scholarly work on Tsai in English It draws on extensive interviews with the director while also offering a complete reappraisal of Tsai's body of work Contributing to queer film theory and the aesthetics of displacement Cruisy Sleepy Melancholy reveals striking connections between sexuality space and cinema

Melancholy Drift Jean Ma, 2010-06-01 Ma offers an innovative study of three provocative Chinese directors Wong Kar wai Hou Hsiao hsien and Tsai Ming liang Focusing on the highly stylized and monlinear configurations of time in each director's films she argues that these directors have brought new global respect for Chinese cinema in amplifying motifs of loss nostalgia hauntin absence and ephemeral poetics Hou Tsai and Wong all insist on the significance of being out of time not merely out of place as a condition of global modernity Ma argues that their films collectively foreground the central place of contemporary Chinese films in a transnational culture of memory characterized by a distinctive melancholy that highlights the difficulty of binding together past and present into a meaningful narrative Jean Ma is assistant professor in the Department of Art and Art History at Stanford University Melancholy Drift rides the films of three Chinese auteurs right into the heart of its subject the mismatch between private feeling and collective history These crucial films set carefully beside one another begin to pulse anew under the deft touch of Jean Ma's analyses Drawing on a deep reservoir of historical and critical knowledge she helps us hear these films speak of our times then speak of time itself and of its dislocations Dudley Andrew Yale University Theoretically sophisticated and elegantly written Melancholy Drift elucidates the subject of cinematic time in its various configurations as a response to historical ruptures and political upheavals as representational politics and as a reinvention of the art cinema

This book is a timely demonstration of the key roles played by Chinese auteurs in shaping the new face of world cinema today and an important contribution to scholarship both within and beyond the field of transnational Chinese cinemas Song Hwee Lim University of Exeter LGBT+ Studies in Turkey Çağlar Özbek,2019-02-04 This volume brings together a selection of discussions on LGBT that are presented from different points of view and from different disciplines This compilation consisting of nine chapters focuses on the perspectives on LGBT in Turkey in a broad range from NGOs to cinema social policies to theatres All chapters discuss Turkey and the studies of LGBT in Turkey and presented in two parts First part is about the theoretic and empirical studies which takes over Turkey experiences from a structural perspective Still in this first part there are two chapters which explain the comparison of UK and EU experiences with Turkey The second part has more of text analysis which indicates cultural studies

Sexual Outercourse Ann van Seventant,2005 Apart from a few considerations on love marriage or sexuality lovemaking has been the object of little philosophical interest in the past Sexual Outercourse Philosophy of Lovemaking guides the reader through the history of philosophy Plato Augustine Kant Hegel Nietzsche Bataille Foucault Levinas Lacan Derrida Irigaray Nancy and wishes to offer a real contribution to the question of sexual love by developing a philosophy of lovemaking for which a new language is needed This book studies existing theories of love and sexuality explores the experience of intimate closeness and draws the attention to what in a most secret way runs its course between lovers Rather than studying the presupposed nature of lovemaking the accent is on how people make love and wish to make love and on how they might choose to relate to the sexual relation
