Multilevel Secure Transaction Processing:

Multilevel Secure Transaction Processing Vijay Atluri, Sushil Jajodia, Binto George, 2012-12-06 Information security is receiving a great deal of attention as computers increasingly process more and more sensitive information. A multilevel secure database management system (MLS DBMS) is designed to store, retrieve, and process information in compliance with certain mandatory security requirements essential for protecting sensitive information from unauthorized access, modification, and abuse. Such systems are characterized by data objects labeled at different security levels and accessed by users cleared to those levels. Unless transaction processing modules for these systems are designed carefully, they can be exploited to leak sensitive information to unauthorized users. In recent years, considerable research has been devoted to the area of multilevel secure transactions that has impacted the design and development of trusted MLS DBMS products. Multilevel Secure Transaction Processing presents the progress and achievements made in this area. The book covers the state of the art research in developing secure transaction processing for popular MLS DBMS architectures such as kernelized, replicated, and distributed architectures and advanced transaction models such as workflows, long duration, and nested models. Further, it explores the technical challenges that require future attention. Multilevel Secure Transaction Processing is an excellent reference for researchers and developers in the area of multilevel secure database systems and may be used in advanced level courses in database security, information security, advanced database systems, and transaction processing.

Provides recent comprehensive coverage of all issues related to information security and ethics, as well as the opportunities, future challenges, and emerging trends related to this subject. Encyclopedia of Information Science and Technology Mehdi Khosrow-Pour, Mehdi Khosrowpour, 2009 This set of books represents a detailed compendium of authoritative research based entries that define the contemporary state of knowledge on technology. Olivier, David L. Spooner, 2012-12-06 Database and Application Security XV provides a forum for original research results, practical experiences, and innovative ideas in database and application security. With the rapid growth of large databases and the application systems that manage them, security issues have become a primary concern in business, industry, government, and society These concerns are compounded by the expanding use of the Internet and wireless communication technologies This volume covers a wide variety of topics related to security and privacy of information in systems and applications including Access control models Role and constraint based access control Distributed systems Information warfare and intrusion detection Relational databases Implementation issues Multilevel systems New application areas including XML Database and Application Security XV contains papers keynote addresses and panel discussions from the Fifteenth Annual Working Conference on Database and Application Security organized by the International Federation for Information Processing IFIP Working Group 11.3 and held July 15-18 2001 in Niagara on the Lake Ontario Canada
