Principles of Continua with Applications Louis Albert Scipio, 1966 Principles of Continua with Applications [by]
L. Albert Scipio Louis Albert Scipio, Hamilton's Principle in Continuum Mechanics Anthony Bedford, 2021-12-14 This revised updated edition provides a comprehensive and rigorous description of the application of Hamilton's principle to continuous media To introduce terminology and initial concepts it begins with what is called the first problem of the calculus of variations For both historical and pedagogical reasons it first discusses the application of the principle to systems of particles including conservative and non conservative systems and systems with constraints The foundations of mechanics of continua are introduced in the context of inner product spaces With this basis the application of Hamilton's principle to the classical theories of fluid and solid mechanics are covered Then recent developments are described including materials with microstructure mixtures and continua with singular surfaces University of California Union Catalog of Monographs Cataloged by the Nine Campuses from 1963 Through 1967: Authors & titles University of California (System). Institute of Library Research, University of California, Berkeley, 1972 Variational and Hemivariational Inequalities Theory, Methods and Applications D. Goeleven, Dumitru Motreanu, Y. Dumont, M. Rochdi, 2013-11-27 This book includes a self contained theory of inequality problems and their applications to unilateral mechanics Fundamental theoretical results and related methods of analysis are discussed on various examples and applications in mechanics The work can be seen as a book of applied nonlinear analysis entirely devoted to the study of inequality problems i e variational inequalities and hemivariational inequalities in mathematical models and their corresponding applications to unilateral mechanics It contains a systematic investigation of the interplay between theoretical results and concrete problems in mechanics It is the first textbook including a comprehensive and systematic study of both elliptic parabolic and hyperbolic inequality models dynamical unilateral systems and unilateral eigenvalues problems The book is self contained and it offers for the first time the possibility to learn about inequality models and to acquire the essence of the theory in a relatively short time Applied Mechanics Reviews, 1967 Consistent Higher Order Accurate Time Discretization Methods for Inelastic Material Models
Schröder, Bettina Anna Barbara, 2020-01-20 The present thesis investigates the usage of higher order accurate time integrators together with appropriate error estimators for small and finite dynamic visco plasticity Therefore a general visco plastic problem is defined which serves as a basis to create closed form solution strategies A classical access towards small and finite visco plasticity is integrated into this concept This approach is based on the idea that the balance of linear momentum is formulated in a weak sense and the material laws are included indirectly Thus separate time discretizations are implemented and an appropriate coupling between them is necessary Limitations for the usage of time integrators are the consequence In contrast an alternative multifield formulation is derived adapting the principle of Jourdain The idea is to assume that the balance of energy taking into account a pseudopotential representing dissipative effects resembles a rate type functional whose stationarity condition leads to the equations describing small or finite dynamic visco plasticity Accordingly the material laws and the balance of linear momentum can be solved on the same level and only one single time discretization has to be performed A greater freedom in the choice of time integrators is obtained and the application of higher order accurate schemes such as Newmark s method fully implicit as well as diagonally implicit Runge Kutta schemes and continuous as well as discontinuous Galerkin methods is facilitated An analysis and a comparison of the classical and the multifield formulation is accomplished by means of distinct examples In this context a dynamic benchmark problem is developed which allows to focus on the effect of different time integrators For this investigation a variety of time discretization error estimators are formulated evaluated and compared Journal of Applied Mechanics ,1968 Publishes original research in all branches of mechanics including aerodynamics aeroelasticity boundary layers computational mechanics constitutive modeling of materials dynamics elasticity flow and fracture heat transfer hydraulics impact internal flow mechanical properties of materials micromechanics plasticity stress analysis structures thermodynamics turbulence vibration and wave propagation Technical Book Review Index ,1967 University of California Union Catalog of Monographs Cataloged by the Nine Campuses from 1963 Through 1967: Subjects University of California (System). Scientific and Technical Books in Print ,1972 Finite Element Bibliography Gerard De Vries,1976-12 This bibliography had its inception in 1967 when the compilers first attempted a comprehensive coverage of the finite element literature using both manual and computer based retrieval Initially the data base was stored on a card index but this was subsequently transferred to punched cards and magnetic tape Computer processing was adopted at an early stage to derive the three index formats from the data base Over the subsequent years several versions of the bibliography were produced with two of these being made available in a report form to other researchers From the widespread interest in these documents it became evident that there was a need for a commercially available comprehensive bibliography in this area A major effort was undertaken to revise update and extend the data base resulting in this present volume The bibliography covers the period 1956 1975 primarily although some earlier publications of historical interest are included The citations are not restricted to the English language and documents are listed in many languages and from diverse places of origin All publication formats were accepted so that references will be found to books monographs journal papers and articles theses dissertations reports surveys and the like College of Engineering University of Washington.
