care professions Studying Disability Elizabeth DePoy, Stephen French Gilson, 2011 Tackles disability from a broad range of interdisciplinary studies and sets forth a new integrative theory and provides guidance on the advancement of social justice and human rights within a global perspective Disability Politics and Care Christine Kelly, 2016-01-15 Disability Politics and Care examines a provincial direct funding program to illuminate what happens when people with disabilities take control of their own care arrangements In addition to investigating responses from a wide range of stakeholders Christine Kelly reflects on the broader social and political implications of these types of programs She probes the divide that exists between rejections of care by disability activists on the one hand and attempts by feminists to value gendered forms of labour on the other Rather than trying to find common ground between these viewpoints Kelly explores how maintaining a tension between them could positively transform the understanding and practice of care Enlivened by the voices of disabled people attendants and informal supports this book uses one independent living program as a starting point for untangling much larger philosophical theoretical and material questions about self determination inter dependence governance and justice
