Narrative Discourse:

Narrative Discourse Revisited Gérard Genette, 1988 In Narrative Discourse Revisited Genette both answers critics of the earlier work and provides a better defined richer and more systematic view of narrative form and functioning This book not only clarifies some of the more complex issues in the study of narrative but also provides a vivid tableau of the development of narratology over the decade between the two works

Narrative Discourse Gérard Genette, 1980 Genette uses Proust's Remembrance of Things Past as a work to identify and name the basic constituents and techniques of narrative Genette illustrates the examples by referring to other literary works His systemic theory of narrative deals with the structure of fiction including fictional devices that go unnoticed and whose implications fulfill the Western narrative tradition

Narrative Discourse Gérard Genette, 1987

Fictions of Discourse Patrick O'Neill, 1994-01-01 O'Neill investigates the extent to which narrative discourse subverts the story it tells in foregrounding its own performance

Analyzing Narrative Anna De Fina, Alexandra Georgakopoulou, 2011-11-24 The socially minded linguistic study of storytelling in everyday life has been rapidly expanding This book provides a critical engagement with this dynamic field of narrative studies addressing long standing questions such as definitions of narrative and views of narrative structure but also more recent preoccupations such as narrative discourse and identities narrative language power and ideologies It also offers an overview of a wide range of methodologies analytical modes and perspectives on narrative from conversation analysis to critical discourse analysis to linguistic anthropology and ethnography of communication The discussion engages with studies of narrative in multiple situational and cultural settings from informal intimate to institutional It also demonstrates how recent trends in narrative analysis such as small stories research positioning analysis and sociocultural orientations have contributed to a new paradigm that approaches narratives not simply as texts but rather as complex communicative practices intimately linked with the production of social life

The Content of the Form Hayden White, 1990-08 The secret of the process by which consciousness invests history with meaning resides in the content of the form in the way our narrative capacities transform the present into a fulfillment of a past from which we would wish to have descended

Narrative Discourse Gérard Genette, 1980 Om litteratur fortællerteknik med udgangspunkt i Marcel Proust's P sporet efter den tabte tid

Events, States and Times Daniel Altshuler, 2016-11-07 This monograph investigates the temporal interpretation of narrative discourse in two parts The theme of the first part is narrative progression It begins with a case study of the adverb now and its interaction with the meaning of tense The case study motivates an ontological distinction between events states and times and proposes that now seeks a prominent state that holds throughout the time described by the tense Building on prior research prominence is shown to be influenced by principles of discourse coherence and two coherence principles NARRATION and RESULT are given a formally explicit characterization The key innovation is a new method for testing the definitional adequacy of NARRATION and RESULT namely by an abductive argument This contribution opens a new way of thinking about how eventive and stative descriptions contribute to the perceived narrative progression in a discourse. The theme of the second part of the monograph is the semantics and pragmatics of tense. A key innovation is that the present and past tenses are treated as scalar alternatives, a view that is motivated by adopting a particular hypothesis concerning stative predication. The proposed analysis accounts for tense in both matrix clauses and in complements of propositional attitudes where the notorious double access reading arises. This reading is explored as part of a corpus study that provides a glimpse of how tense semantics interacts with Gricean principles and at-issueness. Several cross-linguistic predictions of the analysis are considered, including their consequences for the Sequence of Tense phenomenon and the Upper Limit Constraint. Finally, a hypothesis is provided about how tense meanings compose with temporal adverbs and verb phrases. Two influential analyses of viewpoint aspect are then compared in light of the hypothesis. The monograph is directed at graduate students and researchers in semantics, pragmatics, and philosophy of language. The analysis of narrative discourse that is developed in the monograph synthesizes and builds on prior collaborative research with Corien Bary-Valentine, Hacquard Thomas Roberts, Roger Schwarzschild, Una Stojni, K. Roly Varasdi, and Aaron White. Daniel Altshuler is an Assistant Professor of Linguistics at the School of Cognitive Science, Hampshire College, and an Adjunct Professor of Linguistics at the University of Massachusetts Amherst.

Literary Theory and Criticism Patricia Waugh, 2006. This volume offers a comprehensive account of modern literary criticism, presenting the field as part of an ongoing historical and intellectual tradition. Featuring thirty-nine specially commissioned chapters from an international team of esteemed contributors, it fills a large gap in the market by combining the accessibility of single-authored selections with a wide range of critical perspectives. The volume is divided into four parts: Part One covers the key philosophical and aesthetic origins of literary theory, while Part Two discusses the foundational movements and thinkers in the first half of the twentieth century. Part Three offers introductory overviews of the most important movements and thinkers in modern literary theory, and Part Four looks at emergent trends and future directions.

Patterns of Narrative Discourse Allyssa McCabe, Lynn S. Bliss, 2003. Multicultural backgrounds are taken into consideration when dealing with assessment, intervention, and education.

Text and Interpretation Hartin, Petzer, 2019-07-01. Text and Interpretation gives an insight into the many different approaches that more recent South African scholarship has adopted in the interpretation of the New Testament. While the number of approaches in New Testament interpretation has proliferated over the past few years, all the proposals still fall under one of the three traditional poles: sender, author, text, receptor, reader. Classified according to this division, each chapter has a twofold aim. Firstly, the perspective is situated within a wider framework of interpretation to illustrate the context out of which this approach emerges. Secondly, each article has selected a particular New Testament text to demonstrate this approach in practice. The authors of these chapters, the majority of which are South African scholars, were chosen because of their expertise in their specific fields. By presenting these studies together in one collection, the scholarship in these different areas will become more readily accessible to a wider group of scholars

Post-Narratology Through Computational and Cognitive Approaches Ogata, Takashi, Akimoto, Taisuke, 2019-02-01 Studying narratives is an ideal method to gain a good understanding of how various aspects of human information are organized and integrated The concept and methods of a narrative which have been explored in narratology and literary theories are likely to be connected with contemporary information studies in the future including those in computational fields such as AI and in cognitive science This will result in the emergence of a significant conceptual and methodological foundation for various technologies of novel contents media human interface etc Post Narratology Through Computational and Cognitive Approaches explores the new possibilities and directions of narrative related technologies and theories and their implications on the innovative design development and creation of future media and contents such as automatic narrative or story generation systems through interdisciplinary approaches to narratology that are dependent on computational and cognitive studies While highlighting topics including artificial intelligence narrative analysis and rhetoric generation this book is ideally designed for designers creators developers researchers and advanced level students

Narrative Discourse Revisited Gérard Genette, 1994

Story Logic David Herman, 2004-01-01 Featuring a major synthesis and critique of interdisciplinary narrative theory Story Logic marks a watershed moment in the study of narrative David Herman argues that narrative is simultaneously a cognitive style a discourse genre and a resource for writing Because stories are strategies that help humans make sense of their world narratives not only have a logic but also are a logic in their own right providing an irreplaceable resource for structuring and comprehending experience Story Logic brings together and pointedly examines key concepts of narrative in literary criticism linguistics and cognitive science supplementing them with a battery of additional concepts that enable many different kinds of narratives to be analyzed and understood By thoroughly tracing and synthesizing the development of different strands of narrative theory and provocatively critiquing what narratives are and how they work Story Logic provides a powerful interpretive tool kit that broadens the applicability of narrative theory to more complex forms of stories however and wherever they appear Story Logic offers a fresh and incisive way to appreciate more fully the power and significance of narratives
