Oversight Hearing on Base Closure and Realignment Process U. S. Committee on National Security, 2016-10-03 Excerpt from Oversight Hearing on Base Closure and Realignment Process Hearing Before the Military Installations and Facilities Subcommittee of the Committee on National Security House of Representatives One Hundred Fourth Congress First Session Hearing Held February 23 1995 Mr. Hefley: The subcommittee will come to order. We will probably be interrupted with some voting before we are through today but we will try to go ahead and get started and move this along as expeditiously as we can. This afternoon the Military Installations and Facilities Subcommittee will conduct its first hearing of the 104th Congress. At the outset I want to express my appreciation to my colleagues on this subcommittee especially the ranking Member Mr. Ortiz for their cooperation and useful suggestions as we organize the subcommittee for this Congress. I look forward to working closely with each of the committee Members and move toward consideration of the fiscal year 1996 Defense Authorization Bill.

About the Publisher: Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books. Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com. This book is a reproduction of an important historical work. Goren, 2003 This book investigates new patterns of evasive delegation and redistributive policymaking by the U S Congress whereby Congress delegates its decision making power to ad hoc commissions or implements constraints that compel it to make decisions within prescribed limits Elected public officials seem unwilling to make or believe themselves unable to be held responsible for redistributive policy Thus means are devised to actually make the decisions while allowing elected officials to evade responsibility The Base Realignment and Closing Commission BRAC which aimed to get politics out of military base closings is a quintessential example of such means At the heart of these considerations is the question of with whom or where responsibility should rest The American people are left to decide whether to hold unelected and more or less unsupervised individuals commissions and the like responsible for their greater well being while officially elected individuals quietly cede responsibility
