Narrating Colonialism:

Narrating Colonialism D. Maya, 1997 This Book Provides A Fascinating Portrait Gallery Of The British Imperialists The Memsahibs And The Anti Imperialists Caught In The Ideological Conflict Resulting From Colonization Narration, Navigation, and Colonialism Jamal Eddine Benhayoun, 2006 The texts collected in this book are all produced and located within the converging fields of navigation and displacement The connection between navigation and narration becomes clear when we realise that most of the authors and heroes of the accounts discussed by the author were in one way or another involved in shipping and navigation and that their accounts were produced within fluid and floating spaces and in the course of intriguing voyages and long cruises In all cases these narratives start with the narrators on board ships and end with them once again taking charge of their ships and sailing back home In this book the author argues that the seventeenth and eighteenth century English narratives of adventure and captivity were not produced within clearly demarcated territories and on dry land but within spaces of indeterminacy struggle and transition Christianity, the Sovereign Subject, and Ethnic Nationalism in Colonial Korea Hannah Amaris Roh, 2022-08-12 One of the first philosophical approaches to the study of Korea s ethnic nationalism Christianity the Sovereign Subject and Ethnic Nationalism in Colonial Korea traces the impact of Christianity in the formation of Korean national identity outlining the metaphysical origins of the concept of the sovereign subject This monograph takes a meta historical approach and engages the moral questions of Korean historiography amid the fraught politics of narrating colonialism and the postcolonial period Indebted to Jacques Derrida s philosophy of deconstruction and his framework of hauntology this monograph unpacks the ethical consequences of ethnic nationalism exploring how Western metaphysics has haunted imaginations of freedom in colonial Korea While most studies of modern Korean nationalism and post colonialism have taken a cultural literary or social scientific approach this book draws on the thought of Jacques Derrida to offer an innovative intellectual history of Korea s colonial period By deconstructing the metaphysical claims of turn of the century Protestant missionaries and early modern Korean intellectuals the book showcases the relevance of Derrida s philosophical method in the study of modern Korean history This is a must read for scholars interested in Derrida historiography and Korean history Intimate afterlives of empire Astrid Rasch, 2025-09-02 Through close readings of almost twenty autobiographies written after the break up of the British Empire the book examines how individuals engage with the changing narrative landscape brought about by decolonisation It considers the autobiographies less for what they may teach us about the moment remembered and more as windows on the act of remembering This adds a crucial dimension to our understanding of the legacies of colonialism and how the ongoing process of decolonisation is reflected on the level of the individual It argues that autobiographers are at once influenced by and seek to influence the cultural memory of empire and its legacies and the authors own position in both Situated at the intersection of imperial decolonisation history memory studies and life writing studies the book uncovers this intimate afterlife of empire

Britain and the Narration of Travel in the Nineteenth Century Dr Kate Hill, 2016-01-28 Interrogating the multiple ways in which travel was narrated and mediated by and in response to nineteenth century British travelers this interdisciplinary collection examines to what extent these accounts drew on and developed existing tropes of travel The three sections take up personal and intimate narratives that were not necessarily designed for public consumption tales intended for a popular audience and accounts that were more clearly linked with discourses and institutions of power such as imperial processes of conquest and governance Some narratives focus on the things the travelers carried such as souvenirs from the battlefields of Britain's imperial wars while others show the complexity of Victorian dreams of the exotic Still others offer a disapproving glimpse of Victorian mores through the eyes of indigenous peoples in contrast to the imperialist vision of British explorers Swiss hotel registers guest books and guidebooks offer insights into the history of tourism while new photographic technologies the development of the telegraph system and train travel transformed the visual audial and even the conjugal experience of travel The contributors attend to issues of gender and ethnicity in essays on women travelers South African travel narratives and accounts of China during the Opium Wars and analyze the influence of fictional travel narratives Taken together these essays show how these multiple narratives circulated cross fertilised and reacted to one another to produce new narratives new objects and new modes of travel

Colonization, Violence, and Narration in White South African Writing Rosemary Jane Jolly, 1996 The representation of pain and suffering in narrative form is an ongoing ethical issue in contemporary South African literature Can violence be represented without sensationalistic effects or alternatively without effects that tend to be conservative because they place the reader in a position of superiority over the victim or the perpetrator Jolly looks at three primary South African authors Andr Brink Breyten Breytenbach and J M Coetzee to consider violence in the context of apartheid and colonialism and their inherent patriarchies Jolly also discusses the violence attendant upon the act of narration in the broader context of critiques of Kafka Freud Hegel the postcolonial critics Jan Mohamed and Bhabha and feminists such as Susan Suleiman
