Remembering Forward:

Remembering Forward Harold G. Clarke, 1995 Harold Clarke does more than remind the reader of a bygone age he takes us back in time with him to the rural South between the World Wars Whether exploring themes of community or the hydra of the Ku Klux Klan whether telling of a favorite fishing spot on the Ogeechee River or of the death of a childhood friend Clarke is a master storyteller whose stories never fail to invoke the complexity and the richness of life itself Post-Conflict

Hauntings Kim Wale, Pumla Gobodo-Madikizela, Jeffrey Prager, 2020-07-02 This book engages the globally pressing question of how to live and work with the haunting power of the past in the aftermath of mass violence It brings together a collection of interdisciplinary contributions to reflect on the haunting of post conflict memory from the perspective of diverse country case studies including South Africa Rwanda Zimbabwe Northern Ireland North and South Korea Palestine and Israel America and Australia Contributions offer theoretical empirical and practical insights on the nature of historical trauma and practices of collective healing and repair that include embodied artistic and culturally relevant forms of wisdom for dealing with the past While this question has traditionally been explored through the lens of trauma studies in relation to the post Holocaust experience this book provides new understandings from a variety of different historical contexts and disciplinary perspectives Its chapters draw on challenge and expand the trauma concept to propose more contextually relevant frameworks for transforming haunted memory in the aftermath of historical trauma Augustine on Memory Kevin G. Grove, 2021

Augustine of Hippo indisputably one of the most important figures for the study of memory is credited with establishing memory as the inner source of selfhood and locus of the search for God Yet those who study memory in Augustine have never before taken into account his preaching His sermons are the sources of memory's greatest development for Augustine In Augustine's preaching especially on the Psalms the interior gives way to communal exterior Both the self and search for God are re-established in a shared Christological identity and the communal labors of remembering and forgetting This book opens with Augustine's early works and Confessions as the beginning of memory and concludes with Augustine's Trinity and preaching on Psalm 50 as the end of memory The heart of the book the work of memory sets forth how ongoing remembering and forgetting in Christ are for Augustine are foundational to the life of grace To that end Augustine and his congregants go leaping in memory together keep festival with abiding traces and become forgetful runners like St Paul Remembering and forgetting in Christ the ongoing work of memory prove for Augustine to be actions of reconciliation of the distended experiences of human life of praising and groaning labouring and resting solitude and communion Augustine on Memory presents this new communal and Christological paradigm not only for Augustinian studies but also for theologians philosophers ethicists and interdisciplinary scholars of memory Shakespeare, memory, and modern Irish literature Nicholas Taylor-Collins, 2023-02-14 This original and innovative book proposes dismemory as a new form of intertextual engagement with Shakespeare by modern and contemporary Irish writers Through reflection on these canonical writers and ranging across thirteen Shakespeare plays Taylor Collins demonstrates how Irish writers who helped to fashion and critique the Irish nation state carry an indelible if often subdued mark of Shakespeare's early modern English influence The volume overall renews and revitalises the Shakespeare modern Ireland connection Taylor Collins reveals Hamlet's hauntological legacy in Playboy of the Western World Ulysses and Ghosts how the corporal economies that exert pressure from Coriolanus and Ben Jonson flicker through to the antiheroes in Beckett's Three Novels and how the landed legacies of territorial contests in Shakespeare are engaged with in Yeats's poetry and similarly how the diseased muddiness in Hamlet is addressed by Heaney

Reimagining Science Education in the Anthropocene, Volume 2 Sara Tolbert, Maria F.G. Wallace, Marc Higgins, Jesse Bazzul, 2023-11-29 This volume a follow up to Reimagining Science Education in the Anthropocene 2021 continues a transdisciplinary conversation around reconceptualizing science education in the era of the Anthropocene Drawing educators from many walks of life and areas of practice together in a creative work that helps reorient science education toward the problems and peculiarities associated with this contemporary geologic time This work continues the mission of transforming the ways communities inherit science and technology education its knowledges practices policies and ways of living with Nature Our understanding of the Anthropocene is necessarily open and pluralistic as different beings on our planet experience this time of crisis in different ways This second volume continues to nurture productive relationships between science education and fields such as science studies environmental studies philosophy the natural sciences Indigenous studies and critical theory in order to provoke a science education that actively seeks to remake our shared ecological and social spaces in the coming decades and centuries This is an open access book

From Brain to Mind James E. Zull, 2023-07-03 Finalist for Foreword Magazine's 2011 Book of the Year With his knack for making science intelligible for the layman and his ability to illuminate scientific concepts through analogy and reference to personal experience James Zull offers the reader an engrossing and coherent introduction to what neuroscience can tell us about cognitive development through experience and its implications for education Stating that educational change is underway and that the time is ripe to recognize that the primary objective of education is to understand human learning and that all other objectives depend on achieving this understanding James Zull challenges the reader to focus on this purpose first for her or himself and then for those for whose learning they are responsible The book is addressed to all learners and educators to the reader as self educator embarked on the journey of lifelong learning to the reader as parent and to readers who are educators in schools or university settings as well as mentors and trainers in the workplace In this work James Zull presents cognitive development as a journey taken by the brain from an organ of organized cells blood vessels and chemicals at birth through its shaping by experience and environment into potentially to the most powerful and exquisite force in the universe the human mind Zull begins his journey with sensory motor learning and how that leads to discovery and discovery to emotion He then describes how deeper learning develops how symbolic systems such as language and numbers emerge as tools for thought how memory builds a knowledge base and how memory is then used to create ideas and solve problems Along the way he prompts us to think of new ways to shape educational experiences from early in life through adulthood informed by the insight that metacognition lies at the root of all learning At a time when we can expect to change jobs and careers frequently during our lifetime when technology is changing society at break neck speed and we have instant access to almost infinite information and opinion he argues that self knowledge awareness of how and why we think as we do and the ability to adapt and learn are critical to our survival as individuals and that the transformation of education in the light of all this and what neuroscience can tell us is a key element in future development of healthy and productive societies
