Singing For Life:

Singing For Life Gregory Barz, 2014-06-17 Efforts within the past decade to address the HIV AIDS pandemic in sub Saharan Africa have dealt with HIV AIDS principally as a medical concern despite the fact that doctors continue to be confronted with the complex relationship of the disease to broader social issues When medical and governmental institutions fail artists step in Contemporary performances in Uganda often focus on gender and health related issues specific to women and youths in which song texts warn against risky sexual environments or unprotected sexual behavior Music dance and drama are principal tools of local initiatives that disseminate information mobilize resources and raise societal consciousness regarding issues related to HIV AIDS Through case studies song texts interviews and testimonies Singing for Life HIV AIDS and Music in Uganda examines the links between the decline in Uganda's infection rate and grassroots efforts that make use of music dance and drama Only when supported and encouraged by such performances drawing on localized musical traditions have medical initiatives taken root and flourished in local healthcare systems Gregory Barz shows how music can be both a mode of promoting health and a force for personal therapy presenting a cultural analysis of hope and healing

Dem Dry Bones Luke A. Powery, 2012-12-01 In an age when the so called prosperity gospel holds sway in many Christian communities or the good news of Christ is reduced to feel good bromides it would seem that death has little place in contemporary preaching Embracing the vision of the valley of dry bones in Ezekiel 37 as a metaphor for preaching in the Spirit acclaimed homiletician Luke Powery asserts that death is the context for all preaching In fact the Spirit leads preachers to the context of death each Sunday in order to proclaim a word of life that ultimately breathes hope into people's lives Yet many preachers avoid death because they are at a loss of what to say about it and do not realize its vital connection to the substance of Christian hope As a result the church is too often left with sermons that are fundamentally devoid of hope Dem Dry Bones aims to remedy some of the theological and homiletical shortcomings in contemporary preaching by looking closely at the African American spirituals tradition Through this study Powery demonstrates how to preach in the Spirit so that proclaiming death becomes an avenue toward hope In short no death no hope
