Politics Of Everyday Life Making Choices Changing Lives:

Politics Of Everyday Life Ginsborg, Paul, 2013-05-24 Concern over the present state of the world its tensions and disparities fosters in many people the uneasy combination of two sensations urgency and powerlessness The solution lies in our own hands We need to re think the choices we make on a day to day basis choices affecting the ways we use our time the family lives we live the sorts of goods and services we consume the quality of democracy we are able to exercise The individual the local and the global are inextricably intertwined in positive and in negative ways Passivity and indifference at the individual level contribute greatly to collective dismay at the condition of the world This book explores the choices we have It considers the options for civil society and for the individual within today s political culture The Oxford Handbook of the History of Consumption Frank Trentmann, 2012-03-22 The term consumption covers the desire for goods and services their acquisition use and disposal The study of consumption has grown enormously in recent years and it has been the subject of major historiographical debates did the eighteenth century bring a consumer revolution Was there a great divergence between East and West Did the twentieth century see the triumph of global consumerism Questions of consumption have become defining topics in all branches of history from gender and labour history to political history and cultural studies The Oxford Handbook of the History of Consumption offers a timely overview of how our understanding of consumption in history has changed in the last generation taking the reader from the ancient period to the twenty first century It includes chapters on Asia Europe Africa and North America brings together new perspectives highlights cutting edge areas of research and offers a guide through the main historiographical developments Contributions from leading historians examine the spaces of consumption consumer politics luxury and waste nationalism and empire the body well being youth cultures and fashion The Handbook also showcases the different ways in which recent historians have approached the subject from cultural and economic history to political history and technology studies including areas where multidisciplinary approaches have been especially fruitful The Everyday Artefacts of World Politics Caitlin Hamilton, 2021-09-23 This book examines everyday artefacts of world politics the things that everyday people make that tell stories about how the world works The author argues that people engage in a unique form of multimodal storytelling about the world their place in the world and the world they want to live in through the artefacts that they make Introducing a novel approach to artefactual analysis the book explores textiles jewellery and pottery and urges scholars of global politics to take these artefacts seriously Based on original research this book is inherently interdisciplinary drawing on concepts and approaches from across the humanities and social sciences including archaeology history sociology world politics anthropology and material studies It will therefore be of interest to a wide range of readers Me and We Leonard Sweet, 2014-09-16 When Christians answer the clarion call to be missional too often it is primarily to feel good or to grow in their own faith But ultimately we remain unsatisfied because in the end it s still about me my church my faith my salvation

Then sometimes inspiration dries up We forget that Jesus is the head of the Church which exists at God s pleasure and disposal God is birthing a new Social Gospel meant to reclaim mission and justice ministries as prime directives for the Church and not with the naive thinking of the 19th or 20th centuries What are the characteristics of this new Social Gospel There is an expectation that mission is with and not for others There is an acknowledgement that tolerance is not a dirty word and we have to find a peaceable way to live in our intercultural world It carries the Wesleyan impulse to change the world by working to build God s kingdom in this world It offers the grace and salvation of Christ to those in need believing that none are free unless all are free It means that we feed the hungry educate the poor and equip the powerless in tangible ways
