

The background of the slide is a landscape painting. It depicts a wide, open field with a path or streambed winding through it. The ground is covered with numerous grey, flat rocks of various sizes. The vegetation is sparse, consisting of patches of green grass and areas of dry, brownish-orange grass. The sky is filled with soft, white and grey clouds, with a hint of blue at the top. The overall style is that of a classical landscape painting.

Excerpt from The Rise and Progress of the English Constitution In 1848 I prepared and published a small pamphlet called The d104 Book of the Constitution in which were arranged the texts of Magna Carta the Petition of Right and the Bill of Rights with historical comments and with remarks on the People s Charter and other political topics of that year Independently of its politics that pamphlet has been found useful as an historical compilation but the extent to which its latter pages were occupied with political discussions made me unwilling either to employ it myself or to see it employed by others in education I do not wish to disavow any of the opinions which I expressed in it but a teacher of History has no right to avail himself of the position in which he stands towards his pupils for the purpose of training up broods of young Tories Whigs or Radicals according to his own party predilections I therefore intended to prepare an edition of that little treatise which should deal only with the Past and in which the spirit of party pamphlet should be entirely got rid of About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a
