Nuclear Empire:

Nuclear Empire Robert C. Aldridge, 1989      Energy and Empire George A. Gonzalez, 2012-09-01 What set the United States on the path to developing commercial nuclear energy in the 1950s and what led to the seeming demise of that industry in the late 1970s Why in spite of the depletion of fossil fuels and the obvious dangers of global warming has the United States moved so slowly toward adopting alternatives In Energy and Empire George A Gonzalez presents a clear and concise argument demonstrating that economic elites tied their advocacy of the nuclear energy option to post 1945 American foreign policy goals At the same time these elites opposed government support for other forms of energy such as solar that cannot be dominated by one nation While researchers have blamed safety concerns and other factors as helping to arrest the expansion of domestic nuclear power plant construction Gonzalez points to an entirely different set of motivations stemming from the loss of America's domination control of the enrichment of nuclear fuel Once foreign countries could enrich their own fuel civilian nuclear power ceased to be a lever the United States could use to economically politically dominate other nations Instead it became a major concern relating to nuclear weapons proliferation

Empire and the Bomb Joseph Gerson, Walden Bello, 2007-03-20 The United States is the only country to have dropped the atomic bomb Since the A bombings of Hiroshima and Nagasaki every U S president has threatened nuclear war This concise history shows how the U S has used nuclear weapons to bolster its imperial ambitions Leading nuclear specialist and peace campaigner Joseph Gerson explains why atomic weapons were first built and used and how the U S uses them today to preserve its global empire Gerson reveals how and why the U S made more than twenty threats of nuclear attack during the Cold War against Russia China Vietnam and the Middle East He shows how such threats continued under Presidents Bush and Clinton and George W Bush The book concludes with an appeal for nuclear weapons abolition and an overview of the history of the anti nuclear movement Drawing from a wide range of sources this fascinating and timely account shows how the U S has used nuclear weapons to dominate the world

Building a Nuclear Empire: Nuclear Energy As a Russian Foreign Policy Tool In the Case Of Turkey Mehmet Çağatay Güler, 2020-01-27 This book examines the dynamics of Russian foreign policy between 2000 2019 by specifically focusing on the civilian aspect of nuclear energy and how it shapes Russia's relations with Turkey It aims to clarify the role and the importance of nuclear energy as a foreign policy tool specifically in the case of Turkey To this end Russian nuclear energy policy is scrutinized in detail This book reveals that the marketing and trading of nuclear power plants NPPs for civilian purposes not only provides surpluses for Russian economy but also increases the influence and power of Russia over those places where nuclear reactors are sold or other nuclear goods and services are supplied Specifically it examines the extent of the influence of the exportation of NPPs on the Russian foreign policy dynamics in Turkey In this context first a brief historical background information on Russian nuclear power status as well as the utilization of nuclear energy as a foreign policy tool during Putin's presidency is given This is followed by the Russia's nuclear energy policies towards Turkey and the effects of this policy on the Russian foreign policy dynamics in Turkey The book concludes that the Akkuyu NPP project will result in Moscow's domination in the foreign policy dynamics between Turkey and Russia As a result of such dominance Turkey will become much less sovereign in its foreign policy options and will feel the pressure coming from Moscow about the possible consequences of its actions which will not please Russia The primary methodological tool of the work was qualitative analysis utilizing primary and secondary sources in Russian English and Turkish on the topic including academic books articles newspapers magazines and relevant official websites

The Worst-Kept Secret Avner Cohen, 2010-10-15 Israel has made a unique contribution to the nuclear age It has created a special bargain with the bomb Israel is the only nuclear armed state that does not acknowledge its possession of the bomb even though its existence is a common knowledge throughout the world It only says that it will not be the first to introduce nuclear weapons to the Middle East The bomb is Israel's collective ineffable the nation's last great taboo This bargain has a name in Hebrew it is called amimut or opacity By adhering to the bargain which was born in a secret deal between Richard Nixon and Golda Meir Israel has created a code of nuclear conduct that encompasses both governmental policy and societal behavior The bargain has deemphasized the salience of nuclear weapons yet it is incompatible with the norms and values of a liberal democracy It relies on secrecy violates the public right to know and undermines the norm of public accountability and oversight among other offenses It is also incompatible with emerging international nuclear norms Author of the critically acclaimed Israel and the Bomb Avner Cohen offers a bold and original study of this politically explosive subject Along with a fair appraisal of the bargain's strategic merits Cohen critiques its undemocratic flaws Arguing that the bargain has become increasingly anachronistic he calls for a reform in line with domestic democratic values as well as current international nuclear norms Most ironic he believes Iran is imitating Israeli amimut Cohen concludes with fresh perspectives on Iran Israel and the effort toward global disarmament

Iberian World Empires and the Globalization of Europe 1415-1668 Bartolomé Yun-Casalilla, 2019-03-13 This open access book analyses Iberian expansion by using knowledge accumulated in recent years to test some of the most important theories regarding Europe's economic development Adopting a comparative perspective it considers the impact of early globalization on Iberian and Western European institutions social development and political economies In spite of globalization's minor importance from the commercial perspective before 1750 this book finds its impact decisive for institutional development political economies and processes of state building in Iberia and Europe The book engages current historiographies and revindicates the need to take the concept of composite monarchies as a point of departure in order to understand the period's economic and social developments analysing the institutions and societies resulting from contact with Iberian peoples in America and Asia The outcome is a study that nuances and contests an excessively negative yet prevalent image of the Iberian societies explores the difficult relationship between empires and globalization and opens paths for comparisons to other imperial formations

Fortress California, 1910-1961 Roger W.

Lotchin,2002 Fortress California now in paperback for the first time links the growth of the U S military industrial complex to civic leaders who competed for military bases and military contracts to ensure economic growth Analyzing the growth of Los Angeles San Diego and San Francisco from 1910 to 1961 Roger W Lotchin discredits the assumption that the industrialization of the Sunbelt was a result of a partnership between industry and the military He provides instead a detailed and forceful argument that municipalities used federal resources to build urban empires and metropolitan military complexes These have increased the flow of federal dollars into the state thereby shifting the focus of the military industrial complex from warfare to welfare

Seeds of Nonviolence John Dear,2008-04-01 Originally published in 1992 the critically acclaimed Seeds of Nonviolence chronicles John Dear s early experiments in Gospel nonviolence from his service to the homeless in Washington DC various nonviolent civil disobedience actions against war and injustice journals and diaries from Central America the Philippines death row the Abbey of Gethsemani and elsewhere essays on the theological and biblical roots of nonviolence and a closing journal of peacemaking kept during the First Gulf War in 1991 Writing in the tradition of Martin Luther King Jr Dorothy Day and Mahatma Gandhi John Dear shares his reflections and theology on the run from the front lines of the struggle for justice and peace Seeds of Nonviolence inspires us to undertake our own experiments in Gospel nonviolence and to reap a new harvest of peace and justice

Global Ecologies and the Environmental Humanities

Elizabeth DeLoughrey,Jill Didur,Anthony Carrigan,2015-04-10 This book examines current trends in scholarly thinking about the new field of the Environmental Humanities focusing in particular on how the history of globalization and imperialism represents a special challenge to the representation of environmental issues Essays in this path breaking collection examine the role that narrative visual and aesthetic forms can play in drawing attention to and shaping our ideas about long term and catastrophic environmental challenges such as climate change militarism deforestation the pollution and management of the global commons petrocapiatalism and the commodification of nature The volume presents a postcolonial approach to the environmental humanities especially in conjunction with current thinking in areas such as political ecology and environmental justice Spanning regions such as Africa Asia Eastern Europe Latin America and the Caribbean Australasia and the Pacific as well as North America the volume includes essays by founding figures in the field as well as new scholars providing vital new interdisciplinary perspectives on the politics of the earth disaster vulnerability and resilience political ecologies and environmental justice world ecologies and the Anthropocene In engaging critical ecologies the volume poses a postcolonial environmental humanities for the twenty first century At the heart of this is a conviction that a thoroughly global postcolonial and comparative approach is essential to defining the emergent field of the environmental humanities and that this field has much to offer in understanding critical issues surrounding the creation of alternative ecological futures

Japan after 3/11

Pradyumna P. Karan,Unryu Suganuma,2016-09-27 On March 11 2011 an underwater earthquake off the Pacific coast of Tohoku Japan triggered one of the most devastating tsunamis of a generation The aftermath was overwhelming communities were reduced to rubble thousands of people were missing or dead and relief organizations struggled to reach affected areas to provide aid for survivors and victims of radiation from compromised nuclear reactors In Japan after 3 11 editors Pradyumna P Karan and Unryu Suganuma assemble geographers economists humanists and scientists to consider the complex economic physical and social impacts of this heartbreaking disaster Historical geographers place the events of March 2011 in context while other contributors assess the damage and recommend strategies for the long process of reclamation and rebuilding The book also includes interviews with victims that explore the social implications of radioactive contamination and invite comparisons to the discrimination faced by survivors of the Hiroshima and Nagasaki bombings Balancing the natural and social sciences this timely volume offers not only a model of interdisciplinary research for scholars but also an invaluable guide to the planning and implementation of reconstruction

Geografiska Annaler, 1928 Applied Modeling and Computations in Nuclear Science Thomas M. Semkow, 2007 This book will broach the topics of applied nuclear science in general and nuclear chemistry in particular where there is usually a modeling or computational component Typically one finds several modelers presenting their work in the course of almost every symposium It is imperative to bring all such theoretical and computational work in applied nuclear science under one umbrella and that's what this book aims to do The nuclear scientists interested in modeling are lacking a broader forum for their research as well as a vehicle to enable those learning related techniques The editors intend to include several topics radiation risk assessment radiation transport contaminant transport radiation dosimetry modeling of experiments detection limits nuclear data analysis and statistical aspects The Reader's Digest DeWitt Wallace, Lila Acheson Wallace, 1984

The Illusion of the End Jean Baudrillard, 1994 The year 2000 the end of the millennium is this anything other than a mirage the illusion of an end like so many other imaginary endpoints which have littered the path of history In this remarkable book Jean Baudrillard France's leading theorist of postmodernity argues that the notion of the end is part of the fantasy of a linear history Today we are not approaching the end of history but moving into reverse into a process of systematic obliteration We are wiping out the entire twentieth century effacing all signs of the cold War one by one perhaps even the signs of the First and Second World Wars and of the political and ideological revolutions of our time In short we are engaged in a gigantic process of historical revisionism and we seem in a hurry to finish it before the end of the century secretly hoping perhaps to be able to begin again from scratch Baudrillard explores the fatal strategies of time which shape our ways of thinking about history and its imaginary end Ranging from the revolutions in Eastern Europe to the Gulf War from the transformation of nature to the hyper reality of the media this postmodern meditation on modernity and its aftermath will be widely read Pugwash Newsletter, 1995 Japan Roy Thomas, 1989 State of the World, 1986 Third World Resource Directory, 1994-1995 Thomas P. Fenton, Mary J. Heffron, 1994 Topics covered include children and youth drugs education environment foreign policy health hunger indigenous people migration and immigration population
