Making Music Modern:

Making Music Modern Carol J. Oja, 2000 This book recreates an exciting and productive period in which creative artists felt they were witnessing the birth of a new age Aaron Copland Henry Cowell George Gershwin Roy Harris and Virgil Thomson all began their careers then as did many of their less widely recognized compatriots While the literature and painting of the 1920 s have been amply chronicled music has not received such treatment Carol Oja s book sets the growth of American musical composition against parallel developments in American culture provides a guide for the understanding of the music and explores how the notion of the concert tradition as inherited from Western Europe was challenged and revitalized through contact with American popular song jazz and non Western musics

Making Music for Modern Dance Katherine Teck, 2011 Making Music for Modern Dance traces the collaborative approaches working procedures and aesthetic views of the artists who forged a new and distinctly American art form during the first half of the 20th century The book offers riveting first hand accounts from innovative artists in the throes of their creative careers and provides a cross section of the challenges faced by modern choreographers and composers in America These articles are complemented by excerpts from astute observers of the music and dance scene as well as by retrospective evaluations of past collaborative practices Beginning with the careers of pioneers Isadora Duncan Ruth St Denis and Ted Shawn and continuing through the avant garde work of John Cage for Merce Cunningham the book offers insights into the development of modern dance in relation to its music Editor Katherine Teck s introductions and afterword offer historical context and tie the artists essays in with collaborative practices in our own time The substantive notes suggest further materials of interest to students practicing dance artists and musicians dance and music history scholars and to all who appreciate dance

Aaron Copland and the American Legacy of Gustav Mahler Matthew Mugmon, 2019 Although Aaron Copland 1900 1990 is often credited with creating an unmistakably American musical style he was strongly attracted to the music of Gustav Mahler Drawing extensively on archival and musical materials this is the first detailed exploration of Copland s multifaceted relationship with Mahler s music and its lasting consequences for music in America Matthew Mugmon demonstrates that Copland inspired by Mahler s example blended modernism and romanticism in shaping a vision for American music in the twentieth century and that he did so through his multiple roles as composer teacher critic and orchestral tastemaker Copland's career long engagement with Mahler's music intersected with Copland's own Jewish identity and with his links to such towering figures in American music as Nadia Boulanger Serge Koussevitzky and Leonard Bernstein

Classical Music In America Joseph Horowitz, 2005-03-15 Classical Music in America is a pioneering history by an award winning scholar and leading authority on American symphonic culture Joseph Horowitz argues that classical music in the United States is peculiarly performance driven and he traces a musical trajectory rising to its peak at the close of the nineteenth century and receding after World War I He defines the decades of ascendancy as the quest for an American compositional voice painting vivid vignettes of America's most celebrated performers and such pathbreaking institutions as the New York Philharmonic and the Metropolitan Opera He explores a century of decline characterized by illustrious orchestras conductors and virtuosos mostly foreign born and in a final chapter he exposes a crisis of leadership and suggests new musical directions in our postmodern age As with his acclaimed cultural histories Horowitz here fashions a sweeping narrative backed with personality and incident textured by literature sociology and intellectual history that freshly illuminates the American experience 32 pages of illustrations

Blue Rhythm Fantasy John Wriggle, 2016-08-01 Behind the iconic jazz orchestras vocalists and stage productions of the Swing Era lay the talents of popular music's unsung heroes the arrangers John Wriggle takes you behind the scenes of New York City's vibrant entertainment industry of the 1930s and 1940s to uncover the lives and work of jazz arrangers both black and white who left an indelible mark on American music and culture Blue Rhythm Fantasy traces the extraordinary career of arranger Chappie Willet a collaborator of Louis Armstrong Cab Calloway Duke Ellington Gene Krupa and many others to revisit legendary Swing Era venues and performers from Harlem to Times Square Wriggle's insightful music analyses of big band arranging techniques explore representations of cultural modernism discourses on art and commercialism conceptions of race and cultural identity music industry marketing strategies and stage entertainment variety genres Drawing on archives obscure recordings untapped sources in the African American press and interviews with participants Blue Rhythm Fantasy is a long overdue study of the arranger during this dynamic era of American music history

American Culture in the 1920s Susan Currell, 2009-03-21 The 1920s saw the United States rise to its current status as the leading world superpower matched by an emerging cultural dominance that characterized the second half of the twentieth century This book provides an stimulating account of the major cultural and intellectual trends of the decade that have been pivotal to its characterization as the jazz age Currell's book places common representations of the roaring twenties and the lost generation into context through chapters on literature music and performance film and radio and visual art and design alongside the unprecedented rise of leisure and consumption in the 1920s Key Features 3 case studies per chapter featuring key texts genres writers and artists Chronology of 1920s American Culture Bibliographies for each chapter 17 black and white illustrations
