Studies in the Arthurian Legend Sir John Rhys,1891 Genealogy of Popular Science Jesús Muñoz Morcillo,Caroline Y. Robertson-von Trotha,2020-10-27 Despite the efforts of modern scholars to explain the origins of science communication as a social rhetorical and aesthetic phenomenon most researchers approach the popularization of science from the perspective of present issues thus ignoring its historical roots in classical culture along with its continuities disruptions and transformations This volume fills this research gap with a genealogically reflected introduction into the popularization of science as a recurrent cultural technique The category popular science is elucidated in interdisciplinary and diachronic dialogue discussing case studies from all historical periods Classicists archaeologists medievalists art historians sociologists and historians of science provide the first diachronic and multi layered approach to the rhetoric techniques aesthetics and societal conditions that have shaped the dissemination and reception of scientific knowledge

A Note Upon Dryden's Heroic Stanzas on the Death of Cromwell ... Edward Smith Parsons,1904 The Writer ,1923 Technological Animation in Classical Antiquity Tatiana Bur,Maria Gerolemou,Isabel Ruffell,2024-09-24 The persistent desire to animate inanimate objects has been a recurring theme in European culture dating back to ancient Greek and Roman times Technological Animation in Classical Antiquity aims to establish for the first time the significance of this aspiration and its practical realization within Greek and Roman societies While certain aspects of this narrative have been explored previously this study shifts the focus to place technological animation at the forefront The sixteen chapters examine the tangible existence of such devices across various media and considers their roles in diverse contexts delving into the reciprocal relationship between technological and material realities and its influence on the concept of animation and vice versa By adopting this perspective technological animation not only provides a new understanding of the processes behind animation but also lends a fresh perspective to the animated artifact In contrast to other types of animation where the technologically animated artifact is often dismissed as a perceptual error induced for instance by rhetoric or magic this study separates technological animation from notions of rhetorical or magical skills theurgy or divine intervention Specifically it concentrates on a subset of artificial animation solely produced through technical procedures exploring how various motive forces actively contributed to giving objects agency and impacting their viewers illuminating how the material conditions of the artifacts themselves played a role in the process of technological animation whether through the distinctive materiality of bronze or the design of a statuette's hinge
