Genres Across the

Disciplines Hilary Nesi, Sheena Gardner, 2012-02-23 Genres across the Disciplines presents cutting edge corpus based research into student writing in higher education Genres across the Disciplines is essential reading for those involved in syllabus and materials design for the development of writing in higher education as well as for those investigating EAP The book explores creativity and the use of metaphor as students work towards becoming experts in the genres of their discipline Grounded in the British Academic Written English BAWE corpus the text is rich with authentic examples of assignment tasks macrostructures concordances and keywords Also available separately as a paperback Affixes and Derivatives across the Humanities and Social Sciences Piotr Twardzisz, 2026-03-19 Examines word formation patterns in academic writing in the Humanities and Social Sciences offering rich insights into English derivation Genre Theory Deborah Dean, 2008 Contemporary genre theory is probably not what you learned in college Its dynamic focus on writing as a social activity in response to a particular situation makes it a powerful tool for teaching practical skills and preparing students to write beyond the classroom Although genre is often viewed as simply a method for labeling different types of writing Deborah Dean argues that exploring genre theory can help teachers energize their classroom practices Genre Theory synthesizes theory and research about genres and provides applications that help teachers artfully address the challenges of teaching high school writing Knowledge of genre theory helps teachers challenge assumptions that good writing is always the same make important connections between reading and writing eliminate the writing product process dichotomy outline ways to write appropriately for any situation supply keys to understanding the unique requirements of testing situations and offer a sound foundation for multimedia instruction Genre, Technologies, and the Intern-net Discussion List Leah A. Zuidema, 2007 Genre Analysis and Economics Laura Mureşan, 2000 Current Research in Film, 1987 Exploring Research in Music Education and Music Therapy Kenneth Harold Phillips, 2008 Kenneth H Phillips Ph D is Professor of Music and Director of Graduate Studies in Music Education at Gordon College and Professor Emeritus of the University of Iowa An award winning researcher and teacher he has been recognized by the National Association of Music Education MENC as one of the nation's most accomplished music educators Dr Phillips is the author of Teaching Kids to Sing Schirmer Books Thompson Basic Techniques of Conducting OUP and Directing the Choral Music Program OUP and has written over 90 articles published in leading music education journals He has made numerous presentations of his research throughout the United States and in Canada China Australia and New Zealand Visual Arts Research, 1994 Genre, Practice, and the Composition Classroom Meghan E. Bacino, 2008 Research Methods in Clinical and Counselling Psychology Chris Barker, Nancy Pistrang, Robert Elliott, 1994 Research Methods in Clinical and Counselling Psychology presents a practical description of the research process taking readers sequentially through the basic steps of a project groundwork measurement design analysis and interpretation It also addresses essential background issues such as the underlying philosophy of the various research methods and the socio political issues that arise in doing research in service settings

Clinical and counselling research methodology is currently developing rapidly and psychologists are expanding their repertoire of methods. In this book the authors present a balanced appraisal of both traditional and emergent methods. They re-affirm the scientist-practitioner model that clinical and counselling psychologists have a dual role as both clinicians and researchers. The authors argue that research embraces a broad range of activities which can be incorporated into everyday professional practice. The book is aimed at students and professionals who want to conduct their own research and those who simply want to understand published research better.

Academic Writing and Genre Ian Bruce, 2008-04-07. Academic Writing and Genre is a cutting edge monograph that focuses on the use of genre based approaches to teaching academic writing. Genre based courses enable second language learners to integrate their linguistic, organisational and contextual knowledge.

Australian Journal of Botany, 2002. Disability & the Politics of Education Susan Lynn Gabel, Scot Danforth, 2008. Disability and the Politics of Education: An International Reader is a rich resource that deals comprehensively with the many aspects of the complex topic of disability studies in education. For nearly two decades global attention has been given to education as a human right through global initiatives such as Education for All (EFA) and the Salamanca Statement. Yet according to UNESCO reaching the goals of EFA remains one of the most daunting challenges facing the global community. Today millions of the world's disabled children cannot obtain a basic childhood education, particularly in countries with limited resources. Even in the wealthiest countries many disabled children and youth are educationally segregated from the nondisabled, particularly if they are labeled with significant cognitive impairment. International agencies such as the United Nations and the World Bank have generated funds for educational development but unfortunately these funds are administered with the assumption that west is best, thereby urging developing countries to mimic educational policies in the United States and the United Kingdom in order to prove their aid worthiness. This McDonaldization of education reproduces the labeling, resource allocation and social dynamics long criticized in disability studies. The authors in this volume explore these subjects and other complexities of disability and the politics of education. In doing so they demonstrate the importance and usefulness of international perspectives and comparative approaches.
