Revolt: European Traditions and Memories of Social Conflict in Oral Culture Éva Guillorel, David Hopkin, William G. Pooley, 2017-10-23 The culture of insurgents in early modern Europe was primarily an oral one memories of social conflicts in the communities affected were passed on through oral forms such as songs and legends This popular history continued to influence political choices and actions through and after the early modern period The chapters in this book examine numerous examples from across Europe of how memories of revolt were perpetuated in oral cultures and they analyse how traditions were used From the German Peasants War of 1525 to the counter revolutionary guerrillas of the 1790s oral traditions can offer radically different interpretations of familiar events This is a history from below and a history from song which challenges existing historiographies of early modern revolts Beyond the Screen Marta Braun, Charlie Keil, Rob King, Paul Moore, 2012-08-22 This scholarly anthology presents a new framework for understanding early cinema through its usage outside the realm of entertainment From its earliest origins until the beginning of the twentieth century cinema provided widespread access to remote parts of the globe and immediate reports on important events Reaching beyond the nickelodeon theatres cinema became part of numerous institutions from churches and schools to department stores and charitable organizations Then in 1915 the Supreme Court declared moviemaking a business pure and simple entrenching the film industry s role as a producer of harmless entertainment In Beyond the Screen contributors shed light on how pre 1915 cinema defined itself through institutional interconnections and publics interested in science education religious uplift labor organizing and more Young Children and the Environment Julie M. Davis, 2015 This is an essential text for students teachers and practitioners in a range of early childhood education and care settings Encounters with the Real in Contemporary Italian Literature and Cinema Loredana Di Martino, Pasquale Verdicchio, 2017-01-06 This volume explores the Italian contribution to the current global phenomenon of a return to reality by examining the country's rich cultural production in literature and cinema. The focus is particularly on works from the period spanning the Nineties to the present day which offer alternatives to notions of reality as manufactured by the collusion between the neo liberal state and the media. The book also discusses Italy's relationship with its own cultural past by investigating how Italian authors deal with the return of the specter of Neorealism as it haunts the modern artistic imagination in this new epoch of crisis. Furthermore, the volume engages in dialogue with previous works of criticism on contemporary Italian realism while going beyond them in devoting equal attention to cinema and literature. The resulting interactions will aid the reader in understanding how the critical arts respond to the triumph of hyperrealism in the current era of the virtual spectacle as they seek new ways to promote cognitive transformations and foster ethical interventions.

Flood of Images Bernie Cook, 2015-04 Anyone who was not in New Orleans during Hurricane Katrina and the subsequent flooding of the city experienced the disaster as a media event: a flood of images pouring across television and computer screens. The twenty-four hour news cycle created a surplus of representation that overwhelmed viewers and complicated understandings of the storm, the flood, and the aftermath. As time passed, documentary and fictional filmmakers took up the challenge of explaining what had happened in New Orleans, reaching beyond news reports to portray the lived experiences of survivors of Katrina. But while these narratives presented alternative understandings and more opportunities for empathy than TV news, Katrina remained a mediated experience. In Flood of Images, Bernie Cook offers the most in-depth, wide-ranging and carefully argued analysis of the mediation and meanings of Katrina. He engages in innovative, close and comparative visual readings of news coverage on CNN, Fox News, and NBC documentaries including Spike Lee's When the Levees Broke and If God Is Willing and Da Creek Don't Rise, Tia Lessin and Carl Deal's Trouble the Water and Dawn Logsdon and Lolis Elie's Faubourg Tremé and the HBO drama Tremé. Cook examines the production practices that shaped Katrina as a media event, exploring how those choices structured the possible memories and meanings of Katrina and how the media's memory-making has been contested. In Flood of Images, Cook intervenes in the ongoing process of remembering and understanding Katrina.

The Domain of Images James Elkins, 1999 In the domain of visual images, those of fine art form a tiny minority. This original and brilliant book calls upon art historians to look beyond their traditional subjects: painting, drawing, photography, and printmaking, to the vast array of non-art images including those from science, technology, commerce, medicine, music, and archaeology. Such images, James Elkins asserts, can be as rich and expressive as any canonical painting. Using scores of illustrations as examples, he proposes a radically new way of thinking about visual analysis, one that relies on an object's own internal sense of organization. Elkins begins by demonstrating the arbitrariness of current criteria used by art historians for selecting images for study. He urges scholars to adopt, instead, the far broader criteria of the young field of image studies.

After analyzing the philosophic underpinnings of this interdisciplinary field he surveys the entire range of images from calligraphy to mathematical graphs and abstract painting Throughout Elkins blends philosophic analysis with historical detail to produce a startling new sense of such basic terms as pictures writing and notation

Handbook of Biological Confocal Microscopy James Pawley, 2010-08-04 Once the second edition was safely off to the printer the 110 larger world of micro CT and micro MRI and the smaller world authors breathed a sigh of relief and relaxed secure in the belief revealed by the scanning and transmission electron microscopes that they would never have to do that again That lasted for 10 To round out the story we even have a chapter on what PowerPoint years When we nally awoke it seemed that a lot had happened does to the results and the annotated bibliography has been In particular people were trying to use the Handbook as a text updated and extended book even though it lacked the practical chapters needed There As with the previous editions the editor enjoyed a tremendous had been tremendous progress in lasers and ber optics and in our amount of good will and cooperation from the 124 authors understanding of the mechanisms underlying photobleaching and involved Both I and the light microscopy community in general phototoxicity It was time for a new book I contacted the usual owe them all a great debt of gratitude On a more personal note I suspects and almost all agreed as long as the deadline was still a would like to thank Kathy Lyons and her associates at Springer for year away
