Research On Professional Development Sch:

The Impact of a Professional Development School on Professional Development in the Partner School District
Doris Grove,2016 ABSTRACTOver the last several decades those engaged in enhancing educational quality have recognized the increasing importance of the role of professional development in enhancing educator performance and student learning During that same time period professional development school partnerships between school districts and institutions of higher learning have been seen as a vehicle for transforming or renewing both basic and higher education It is reasonable to expect that the establishment of a professional development school partnership would exert a significant impact on the professional development program of the district However this may not be the case In fact Levine 1997 argued school districts with some important exceptions continue to ignore the potential impact that professional development schools can have in terms of professional development recruitment and new teacher induction p 6 The purpose of this study was to address empirically the question of the impact of a PDS partnership on a districts professional development program The central research question framing this study was What has been the impact of an elementary professional development school partnership on the professional development program of the school district at the elementary level In order to answer this central research question the following sub questions guided the study 1 As individuals in a variety of roles and contexts perceive ithas the elementary professional development program in the school district changed as a result of the PDS partnership 2 If changes in professional development have occurred at the elementary level in what areas have the changes occurred a Assumptions underlying professional developmentb Goals for professional developmentc Delivery of professional development d Role of the teacher in professional developmente Outcomes of professional development 3 What factors explain the changes that have occurred The study employed a qualitative case study approach In depth interviews using an interview protocol adapted from Seidman were conducted with 25 participants from three distinct categories 1 central office administrators including curriculum coordinators 2 principals and 3 teachers using Seidmans interview protocol Data were analyzed using the constant comparative method Glasser Strauss 1967 As revealed from the data collected during this study all of the participant groups with the exception of the low involvement teacher participants perceived that the professional development school partnership offered and supported multiple opportunities for professional development including enhanced teacher leadership possibilities generating a culture of inquiry and empowerment through teacher generated and teacher led professional development The findings of the study indicate multiple opportunities for future research studies in regards to professional development school university partnerships and teacher leadership and principal leadership in a PDS partnership   Advancing School-University Partnerships and Professional Development Schools through National Research Joseph R. Professional Development for School Improvement Stephen P. Gordon,2004 This book integrates knowledge from professional development and school improvement to describe frameworks that can increase the capacity of individuals teams and organizations to grow and develop The text argues that both professional development and school improvement should have as their primary purpose the improvement of teaching and learning Eleven frameworks for professional development are presented along with strategies for integrating multiple frameworks in comprehensive programs School leader development is addressed as a prerequisite for professional and school development   Resources in Education ,1995

Handbook of Research on Teacher Education John P. Sikula,Association of Teacher Educators,1996 In 1990 the first edition of the Handbook of Research on Teacher Education offered a comprehensive introduction to research based reform in the classroom emphasizing the need to create effective educational models in direct response to the evolving needs of different school settings Six years later as research based reform continues to strike a balance between the academic theories and classroom realities of our nation s schools the second edition of the Handbook seeks to balance the transitory nature of a career in education with the long term commitment such a career entails   Everyone Teaches and Everyone Learns Lourdes Z. Mitchel,2013-09-19 The literature on preparing and sustaining quality teachers has suggested that to be successful teacher preparation and development require a mutual collaboration and a synergy of effort among partners most typically a school district and a university teacher preparation program One response has been to draw universities and school districts together in true partnership through Professional Development Schools PDSs Together the partners are responsible for creating environments in schools and in university classrooms that can transform into clinical sites dedicated to best practices and professional growth for all This book is designed to offer practical applications on how partners can work together to implement the mission and goals of the PDS by providing ways that PDS partners can engage in a much deeper and more profound experience that results in a synergistic relationship Joint involvement in application of practice takes each partner to a level far greater than traditional teacher education and professional development practices while creating a cooperative community of practice centered on teacher and student learning Professional Development and the Diffusion of Innovations in School Library Media Centers David William Miller,1995 Science Education and Teacher Professional Development Elizabeth A. C. Rushton,2021-04-08 This book presents a radical reconceptualization of subject focused and research led teacher professional development Drawing on the experiences of more than 50 high school teachers and technicians who participated in science based research with their students the author examines how this enables teachers to develop a Teacher Scientist model of professional identity Through active participation in research science teachers and technicians can implement socially just approaches to education where students differences are valued and through research their social and academic development is supported Central to the Teacher Scientist identity is the development of and sustained interaction with complex and collaborative professional networks which include researchers university staff and teachers and students in other schools In the context of persistent recruitment and retention challenges the Teacher Scientist model provides a research led approach which may offer an alternative to strategies focused on financial incentives
