"Toubab La!" Literary Representations of Mixed-Race Characters in the African Diaspora Ginette Curry, 2009-05-05 The book is an examination of mixed race characters from writers in the United States The French and British Caribbean islands Martinique Guadeloupe St Lucia and Jamaica Europe France and England and Africa Burkina Faso South Africa Botswana and Senegal The objective of this study is to capture a realistic view of the literature of the African diaspora as it pertains to biracial and multiracial people For example the expression Toubab La as used in the title is from the Wolof ethnic group in Senegal West Africa It means This is a white person or This is a black person who looks or acts white It is used as a metaphor to illustrate multiethnic people s plight in many areas of the African diaspora and how it has evolved The analysis addresses the different ways multiracial characters look at the world and how the world looks at them These characters experience historical economic sociological and emotional realities in various environments from either white or black people Their lineage as both white and black determines a new self making them constantly search for their identity Each section of the manuscript provides an in depth analysis of specific authors novels that is a window into their true experiences The first section is a study of mixed race characters in three acclaimed contemporary novels from the United States James McBride s The Color of Water 1996 Danzy Senna s Caucasia 1998 and Rebecca Walker s Black White and Jewish 2001 reveal the conflicting dynamics of being biracial in today s American society The second section is an examination of mixed race characters in the following French Caribbean novels Mayotte Cap cia s I Am a Martinican Woman 1948 Mich le Lacrosil s Cajou 1961 and Ravines du Devant Jour 1993 by Rapha l Confiant Section three is about their literary representations in Derek Walcott s What the Twilight Says 1970 Another life 1973 Dream on Monkey Mountain 1967 and

Michelle Cliff's Abeng 1995 from the British Caribbean islands. Section four is an in-depth analysis of their plight in novels written by contemporary mulatto writers from Europe such as Marie N Diaye's Among Family 1997, Zadie Smith's White Teeth 2000, and Bernardine Evaristo's Lara 1997. Finally, the last section of the book is a study of novels from West African and South African writers. The analysis of Monique Ilboudo's Le Mal de Peau 2001, Bessie Head's A Woman Alone 1990, and Abdoulaye Sadjou's Nini 1947 concludes this literary journey that takes the readers through several continents at different points in time. Overall, this comprehensive study of mixed-race characters in the literature of the African diaspora reveals not only the old but also the new ways they decline, contest, and refuse racial clichés. Likewise, the book unveils how these characters resist, create, reappropriate, and revise fixed forms of identity in the African diaspora of the 20th and 21st century. Most importantly, it is also an examination of how the authors themselves deal with the complex reality of a multiracial identity.

Educational Therapy in Action Dorothy Fink Ungerleider, 2011-08-15. This book provides an in-depth look at what a little-known clinician, the educational therapist, does and how they do it. It goes behind the clinician's door to illustrate the unusual and broad range of interventions, both academic, vocational, and social-emotional, that an educational therapist employs. This particular case study involves a young woman named Nora who had a severe but undiagnosed auditory processing disorder. She could not give meaning to the spoken language that came at her too rapidly, leaving her in a constant fog of words that she couldn't comprehend. This case discloses the problems, their causes, and the emotional toll that had to be considered when developing an effective educational therapeutic plan for Nora. It vividly illustrates the dynamic exchanges and mutual learning that goes on between client and therapist. Parts I and II illustrate how the psycho-educational interventions that addressed Nora's academic and non-academic needs were gradually formulated over the first year. Part III provides a series of vignettes from subsequent years that illustrate the ongoing applications of the therapist's work. Distinguishing Features: Explanatory Sidebars. The rationale behind particular techniques and interventions is clarified through a system of explanatory sidebars that inform the reader without distracting from the story. This approach makes the book both an instructional tool and a compelling story. Organic Curriculum. The rationale for and application of an organic, personalized curriculum is explained and applied throughout the book as a model for others to use in working with this population. A Longitudinal Perspective. The initial work with Nora began many years ago, so this book provides a long view of her life and tracks the influences that educational therapy exerted on her development into a fully functioning adult. Cognitive-Emotional Integration. The core of educational therapy, the interdependence of cognitive skills and emotional response, is clearly documented throughout the book. In addition to educational therapy students and practitioners, this book is appropriate for those working in related fields such as special education, school psychology, school counseling, and social work in educational
