Simulacres Et Simulation:

Simulacra and Simulation Jean Baudrillard, 1994 Develops a theory of contemporary culture that relies on displacing economic notions of cultural production with notions of cultural expenditure This book represents an effort to rethink cultural theory from the perspective of a concept of cultural materialism one that radically redefines postmodern formulations of the body

Simulations Jean Baudrillard, 1983 The Jean Baudrillard Reader Steve Redhead, 2008 Jean Baudrillard 1929 2007 was a controversial social and cultural theorist known for his trenchant analyses of media and technological communication Belonging to the generation of French thinkers that included Gilles Deleuze Jean Fran ois Lyotard Michel Foucault and Jacques Lacan Baudrillard has at times been vilified by his detractors but the influence of his work on critical thought and pop culture is impossible to deny many might recognize his name from The Matrix movies which claimed to be based on the French theorist s ideas Steve Redhead takes a fresh look at Baudrillard in relation to the intellectual and political climates in which he wrote Baudrillard sought to produce a theory of modernity but the modern world of the 1950s was radically different from the reality of the early twenty first century Beginning with Baudrillard s initial publications in the 1960s and concluding with his writings on 9 11 and Abu Ghraib Redhead guides the reader through Baudrillard s difficult texts and unorthodox views on current issues He also proposes an original theory of Baudrillard s relation to postmodernism presenting the theorist s work as non postmodernist after Bruno Latour s concept of non modernity Each section of the Reader includes an extract from one of Baudrillard s writings prefaced by a short bibliographical introduction that places the piece in context and puts the debate surrounding the theorist into sharp perspective The conflict over Baudrillard s legacy stems largely from the fact that a comprehensive selection of his writings has yet to be translated and collected into one volume The Jean Baudrillard Reader provides an expansive and much needed portrait of the critic s resonant work

Empire of Chance Anders Engberg-Pedersen, 2015-03-10 Anders Engberg Pedersen shows how the Napoleonic Wars inspired a new discourse on knowledge in the West Soldiers returning from battle were forced to reconsider what it is possible to know and how decisions are made in a fog of imperfect knowledge Chance no longer appeared exceptional but normative a prism for understanding the modern world

Subjectivity and Identity Peter V. Zima, 2015-06-18 Subjectivity and Identity is a philosophical and interdisciplinary study that critically evaluates critically the most important philosophical sociological psychological and literary debates on subjectivity and the subject Starting from a history of the concept of the subject from modernity to postmodernity from Descartes and Kant to Adorno and Lyotard Peter V Zima distinguishes between individual collective mythical and other subjects Most texts on subjectivity and the subject present the topic from the point of view of a single discipline philosophy sociology psychology or theory of literature In Subjectivity and Identity Zima links philosophical approaches to those of sociology psychology and literary criticism The link between philosophy and sociology is social philosophy e g Althusser Marcuse Habermas the link between philosophy and literary criticism is aesthetics e.g. Adorno, Lyotard, Vattimo. Philosophy and psychology can be related thanks to the psychological implications of several philosophical concepts of subjectivity: Hobbes, Stirner, Sartre. Proust, Pastiche, and the Postmodern or Why Style Matters James F. Austin, 2013-08-28. Proust's pastiche and the Postmodern or Why Style Matters argues against the traditional view that Marcel Proust wrote pastiches that is texts that imitate the style of another author to master his literary predecessors while sharpening his writerly quill. On the contrary, James F. Austin demonstrates that Proust's oeuvre and In Search of Lost Time in particular deploy pastiche to other ends. Proust's pastiches in fact do things with words to create powerful real world effects. His works are indeed performative acts that forge social relationships, redefine our ideas of literature and even work against oppressive political and economic discourses. Building on the speech act theory of J. L. Austin, Jacques Derrida, and J. Hillis Miller and on the postmodern theory of Fredric Jameson, this book not only elucidates the performative nature of pastiche but also shows that the famous Goncourt pastiche from In Search of Lost Time has attracted so much attention because it already attained the postmodern that is it eliminated temporal depth and experience, transforming time itself into a nostalgic style of an era and into the sort of aestheticized surface that came to define postmodernism decades later. To reflect this transformation of pastiche, this work rearticulates its history in France around Proust, reconfiguring a scholastic, classically inspired pedagogical tradition based on imitation and breaking with the dominant satirical practice. Proust's work opened up possibilities in the twentieth century for a new kind of pastiche: playful and performative in the literary field and postmodern in a French cinema that, as with the Goncourt pastiche, represents time as the visual style of an era, whether unreflexively in heritage films such as Régis Wargnier's Indochine or discerningly in Eric Rohmer's Lady and the Duke, which uses period pictorial and painterly conventions to illustrate how the representation of history onscreen typically flattens time into style.

Prosthesis David Wills, 1995. Prosthesis is an experiment in critical writing that both analyzes and performs certain questions about the body as an artificial construction. The book deals with the mechanical, e.g. a mechanical prosthesis like a father's artificial leg, in that most humanistic of discourses: the artistic. In order to demonstrate to what extent a supposedly natural creation relies on artificial devices of various kinds, it is distinguished from a thematics of the prosthetic in literature by its complex articulation with accounts of the amputee father's discomfort slipping back and forth between an apparently constative and a more obviously performative mode in and out of fiction and autobiography. Cutting across the terrains occupied traditionally by the history of medicine, film studies, art history, philosophy, psychoanalysis, literary theory, and fiction, it finds an artistic or cultural pretext for each of its expositions: a line from Virgil, a painting by Conder, a theory by Freud, a film by Greenaway, a text by Derrida, novels by Roussel or Gibson, a sixteenth-century rhetoric that connects thematically or theoretically with the question of prosthesis. Queer Religion Donald Boisvert, Jay E. Johnson, 2011-12-13. This ground-breaking and eye-opening book examines the intersections of religion and same-sex desire from St. Augustine to Hinduism to contemporary LGBT and queer culture. Queer Religion provides a systematic and detailed overview of the challenges and issues that the intersections of religion same sex desire and gender variance have generated both now and in the past It focuses upon the development of these areas of overlap through three distinct historical periods modern religious history LGBT liberation movements and the emergence of queer theory and analysis This two volume collection of eclectic essays investigates the experiences of queer people and religion providing a broad unique and invaluable analysis of this important cultural and theological encounter As a group the contributors offer brave insights and diverse perspectives on a variety of topics dealing with religion same sex desire and gender expression Some of these essays are explicitly historical in focus or scholarly articles while others provide autobiographical viewpoints and personal reminiscences This book provides a comprehensive look at the queer dimensions of religious practice and belief essential reading for religious scholars those within the LGBT community and anyone interested in human spirituality and sexuality

Nottingham French Studies Lewis G. M. Thorpe,1999 Postmodernity's Transcending Laurence Paul Hemming,2005 This book in one way undertakes a history of the concept of the aesthetic sublime in another it is an exploration of the limits of theological thinking where theology is understood either as a practice arising from faith or from thinking By examining concepts like soul experience analogy and truth the author issues a provocative challenge to much contemporary Christian theology to return to a more serious engagement with philosophy Hemming explores the confrontation with God and the gods to be found in Protagoras Plato Aristotle Aquinas Hegel Nietzsche Heidegger and Derrida often offering innovative readings of these thinkers sharply at odds with accounts to be found elsewhere
