People Studying People The Human Element In Field Work:

People Studying People Robert A. Georges, Michael O. Jones, 1980-03-13 The authors of this book demonstrate that fieldwork is first and foremost a human pursuit They draw upon published and unpublished accounts of fieldworkers personal experiences to develop the thesis that an appreciation of fieldwork as a unique mode of inquiry depends upon an understanding of the role the human element plays in it They analyze the processes involved when people study people firsthand focusing upon the recurrent human problems that arise and must be solved The human processes and problems they argue are common to all fieldwork regardless of the disciplinary backgrounds or the specific interests of individual researchers People Studying People Laurence Pringle, 1972 People Studying People Robert A. Georges, Michael Owen Jones, 1980 The authors of this book demonstrate that fieldwork is first and foremost a human pursuit They draw upon published and unpublished accounts of fieldworkers personal experiences to develop the thesis that an appreciation of fieldwork as a unique mode of inquiry depends upon an understanding of the role the human element plays in it They analyze the processes involved when people study people firsthand focusing upon the recurrent human problems that arise and must be solved The human processes and problems they argue are common to all fieldwork regardless of the disciplinary backgrounds or the specific interests of individual researchers People Studying People Robert A. Georges, Michael O. Jones, 1980-03-13 Non Aboriginal material Geomorphological Fieldwork, 2014-12-06 Geomorphological Fieldwork addresses a topic that always remains popular within the geosciences and environmental science More specifically the volume conveys a growing legacy of field based learning for young geomorphologists that can be used as a student book for field based university courses and postgraduate research requiring fieldwork or field schools The editors have much experience of field based learning within geomorphology and extend this to physical geography The topics covered are relevant to basic geomorphology as well as applied approaches in environmental and cultural geomorphology The book integrates a physical human approach to geography but focuses on physical geography and geomorphology from an integrated field based geoscience perspective Addresses fluvial and karst landscapes in depth Focuses on field based learning as well as educational geomorphology Conveys experiential knowledge in international contexts Fieldwork Robert Lawless, Vinson H. Sutlive, Mario D. Zamora, 2021-10-14 Featuring a mix of American and Third World anthropologies FIELDWORK concentrates on the experiences of investigators studying the inner workings of society by entering into the life of its members There is an obvious paradox here anthropologists are both observers and participants Despite attempts to remain objective the fieldworker comes to think and act as a member of the target culture Without this personal involvement ethnographic study becomes sterile but because of it detached scientific objectivity is impossible However disciplined subjectivity is attainable through clarification of the human variations in fieldwork This book explores the fascinating variations ranging from a chapter by the dean of the American anthropology Charles Wagley in which he relates his experiences in the 1930s among the Indians in the highlands of Guatemala to one on recent fieldwork in an Arizona school district Each chapter offers a unique perspective on the important issues of fieldworker identity and its development in traditional and modern fieldwork American Folklore Studies Simon J. Bronner,1986 International Journal of Oral History ,1981 The Mask and the Message Ke Cinnappa Gauda,2005 Research papers on various aspects of Tulu culture and folklore presented at various conferences Arguing in Communities Gary Layne Hatch,1996 This text focuses on developing effective arguments within particular discourse communities acknowledging that community contexts affect factors such as a writer s motivation and strategy The second edition of Arguing in Communities provides new and expanded coverage an abundance of new readings and a full complement of exercises many of them designed for collaborative work The book has three parts Arguing and Living in Communities Types of Claims and Continuing the Conversation An Anthology of Arguments Folk Life ,1978 A journal of ethnological studies Folk Arts in Education Marsha MacDowell,1987 HOW TO USE FOLKLORE IN THE CLASSROOM Qualitative Research for Education Robert Bogdan,Sari Knopp Biklen,2003 Provides readers with the necessary background information needed for understanding the uses of qualitative research in education This new edition places qualitative research within current debates about research methods and alternative ways of knowing Selected Readings in the Anthropology of Religion Stephen D. Glazier,Charles A. Flowerday,2003-12-30 Brings together in one volume a number of key theoretical and methodological advances in the anthropological study of religion Chapters cover important topics not ordinarily included in books dealing with the anthropology of religion e g bipedalism the study of alcohol film and video images notions of religious agency In addition this collection is intended to build bridges between anthropologists of religion and religious studies scholars Over the last four decades anthropologists have grappled with the dialectical relationship between the examination of cultures from the emic or insider perspective and the etic or outsider perspective Nowhere is this creative tension more evident than in the anthropological study of religion In this volume anthropologists and religious studies scholars come to terms not only with a landscape that has shifted fundamentally but a landscape that is still shifting Essays in this collection raise new and important issues for the anthropological study of religion in new and important ways In intensely personal essays a number of contributors address two fundamental concerns in the study of religion 1 how should anthropologists deal with the beliefs and practices of others and 2 how should anthropologists deal with their own religious backgrounds and beliefs as these may affect their understanding of the beliefs and practices of others A partial resolution to both questions is necessary before the anthropological study of religion can advance to a higher level Proceedings of the National Conference of Social Work at the ...
