Advances in Animal Welfare Science 1986/87 M.W. Fox,Linda D. Mickley,2012-12-06 This third volume of articles dealing with advances in animal welfare science and philosophy covers a wide variety of topics Major areas of discussion include the ethics and use of animals in biomedical research farm animal behavior and welfare and wildlife conservation Three articles dealing with aspects of equine behavior and welfare cover new ground for this companion species An in depth study of the destruction of Latin America s tropical rain forests links the need for conservation and wildlife protection with the devastating impact of the international beef hamburger industry and also highlights serious welfare problems in the husbandry of cattle in the tropics Papers from a recent symposium at Moorhead State University Animals and Humans Ethical Perspectives have been included in this volume Many of these are benchmark papers presenting the most up to date and documented evidence in support of animal welfare and rights Articles oppos ing these position papers are included since they were part of the symposium and because they provide the reader with a deeper understanding of the arguments given in support of various forms of animal exploitation While there is no intent to endorse these views by publishing them it should be acknowledged that without an open and scholarly exchange of opposing of constructive exchange and conflict resolution will views the possibility remain remote

The Journal of Experimental Zoology ,1990 Israel Journal of Medical Sciences ,1987 Conference proceedings. New perspectives in science education 7th edition Pixel,2018-03-19 New Perspectives on the History of Life Sciences and Agriculture Denise Phillips,Sharon Kingsland,2015-02-12 This volume explores problems in the history of science at the intersection of life sciences and agriculture from the mid eighteenth to the mid twentieth century Taking a comparative national perspective the book examines agricultural practices in a broad sense including the practices and disciplines devoted to land management forestry soil science and the improvement and management of crops and livestock The life sciences considered include genetics microbiology ecology entomology forestry and deal with US European Russian Japanese Indonesian Chinese contexts The book shows that the investigation of the border zone of life sciences and agriculture raises many interesting questions about how science develops In particular it challenges one to re examine and take seriously the intimate connection between scientific development and the practical goals of managing and improving perhaps even recreating the living world to serve human ends Without close attention to this zone it is not possible to understand the emergence of new disciplines and transformation of old disciplines to evaluate the role and impact of such major figures of science as Humboldt and Mendel or to appreciate how much of the history of modern biology has been driven by national ambitions and imperialist expansion in competition with rival nations
