Modern Language Of Architecture By Zevi Bruno:

The Modern Language of Architecture Bruno Zevi, 1978 this intelligent work of historical analysis goes a long way toward putting the dialogue between art and criticism on a systematic basis it will be regarded as a seminal treatment of its topic for years to come San Francisco Review of Books

Modern Architectural Theory Harry Francis Mallgrave, 2009-07-13 Modern Architectural Theory is the first book to provide a comprehensive survey of architectural theory primarily in Europe and the United States during three centuries of development In this synthetic overview Harry Mallgrave examines architectural discourse within its social and political context He explores the philosophical and conceptual evolution of its ideas discusses the relation of theory to the practice of building and most importantly considers the words of the architects themselves as they contentiously shaped Western architecture He also examines the compelling currents of French rationalist and British empiricist thought radical reformation of the theory during the Enlightenment the intellectual ambitions and historicist debates of the nineteenth century and the distinctive varieties of modern theory in the twentieth century up to the profound social upheaval of the 1960s Modern Architectural Theory challenges many assumptions about architectural modernism and uncovers many new dimensions of the debates about modernism

Decoding Luigi Moretti's Architettura Parametrica

Giuseppe Canestrino,2025-05-16 Decoding Luigi Moretti's Architettura Parametrica presents an unprecedented critical discussion of one of the earliest theoretical and practical explorations into the integration of scientific thought mathematical models and digital tools in architectural design Moretti a renowned professional who engaged in countless intellectual initiatives developed and refined his architectural vision long before parametric became synonymous with computational design His Architettura Parametrica is an unconventional inquiry of the prospects offered to design practice by digital thinking rather than by digital tools which were still immature or completely absent at the time Moretti proposed a unique and still relevant mental landscape that united his fascination with Baroque spatiality operational research informal art optics cybernetics ethics and much more This research decodes numerous facets of Architettura Parametrica from the rigid theoretical precepts to the negotiation with design praxis from the use of equations to aid the research of forms to the speculation on the meaning of architecture through abstract mathematics This book offers novel perspectives to scholars interested in the interplay between architectural design practice and theory mathematics and design methods digital and architectural culture and to the growing number of practitioners who are crafting personal narratives within the most disruptive computational techniques

An Accidental Masterpiece Dietrich Neumann,2020-12-07 The Complex History of a Building With the temporary exhibition pavilion of the German Reich at the 1929 International Exposition in Barcelona Mies van der Rohe designed an architectural icon but also a controversial monument of the way the Weimar Republic portrayed itself The building is one of the most unusual success stories in the history of architecture Despite its short existence its reputation grew steadily in the following decades thanks in part to magnificent photographs It was soon considered the constructed manifesto of the Modern Age and its spatial and ideational ambitions were called a milestone of Modern architecture This comprehensively broadly researched book portrays the building's complex history and its political entanglement up to and including its reconstruction according to van der Rohe's plans at the original site between 1983 and 1986 Presumably the most important and influential architectural icon of the 20th century uniquely documented and depicted On the occasion of the 50th anniversary of Mies' death and the Bauhaus centenary Many never before published photographs from archives in the US Germany and Spain

The Baroque in Architectural Culture, 1880-1980 Andrew Leach,John Macarthur,2016-03-09 In his landmark volume Space Time and Architecture Sigfried Giedion paired images of two iconic spirals Tatlin's Monument to the Third International and Borromini's dome for Sant Ivo alla Sapienza The values shared between the baroque age and the modern were thus encapsulated on a single page spread As Giedion put it writing of Sant Ivo Borromini accomplished the movement of the whole pattern from the ground to the lantern without entirely ending even there And yet he merely groped towards that which could be completely effected in modern architecture achieving the transition between inner and outer space The intellectual debt of modern architecture to modernist historians who were ostensibly preoccupied with the art and architecture of earlier epochs is now widely acknowledged This volume extends this work by contributing to the dual projects of the intellectual history of modern architecture and the history of architectural historiography. It considers the varied ways that historians of art and architecture have historicized modern architecture through its interaction with the baroque, a term of contested historical and conceptual significance that has often seemed to shadow a greater contest over the historicity of modernism. Presenting research by an international community of scholars, this book explores through a series of cross sections the traffic of ideas between practice and history that has shaped modern architecture and the academic discipline of architectural history across the long twentieth century. The editors use the historiography of the baroque as a lens through which to follow the path of modern ideas that draw authority from history. In doing so, the volume defines a role for the baroque in the history of architectural historiography and in the history of modern architectural culture.

Writing Architecture in Modern Italy Daria Ricchi, 2020-10-01. Writing Architecture in Modern Italy tells the history of an intellectual group connected to the small but influential Italian Einaudi publishing house between the 1930s and the 1950s. It concentrates on a diverse group of individuals including Bruno Zevi, an architectural historian and politician; Giulio Carlo Argan, an art historian; Italo Calvino, a fiction writer; Giulio Einaudi, a publisher; and Elio Vittorini and Cesare Pavese, both writers and translators. Linking architectural history and historiography within a broader history of ideas, this book proposes four different methods of writing history, defining historiographical genres, modes, and tones of writing that can be applied to history writing to analyze political and social moments in time. It identifies four writing genres: myths, chronicles, history, and fiction, which became accepted as forms of multiple postmodern historical stories after 1957. An important contribution to the architectural debate, Writing Architecture in Modern Italy will appeal to those interested in the history of architecture, history of ideas, and architectural education.
