Post-Punk, Politics and Pleasure in Britain David Wilkinson,2016-08-31 As the Sex Pistols were breaking up Britain was entering a new era Punk s filth and fury had burned brightly and briefly soon a new underground offered a more sustained and constructive challenge As future focused independently released singles appeared in the wake of the Sex Pistols there were high hopes in magazines like NME and the DIY fanzine media spawned by punk Post Punk Politics and Pleasure in Britain explores how post punk's politics developed into the 1980s. Illustrating that the movement's monochrome gloom was illuminated by residual flickers of countercultural utopianism, it situates post punk in the ideological crossfire of a key political struggle of the era: a battle over pleasure and freedom between emerging Thatcherism and libertarian feminist and countercultural movements dating back to the post-war New Left. Case studies on bands including Gang of Four, The Fall, and the Slits, and labels like Rough Trade, move sensitively between close reading of historical context and analysis of who made post punk and how it was produced and mediated. The book examines too how the struggles of post punk resonate down to the present.

Youth Culture and Social Change Keith Gildart, Anna Gough-Yates, Sian Lincoln, Bill Osgerby, Lucy Robinson, John Street, Peter Webb, Matthew Worley, 2017-10-16. This book brings together historians, sociologists, and social scientists to examine aspects of youth culture. The book's themes are riots, music, and gangs, connecting spectacular expressions of youthful disaffection with everyday practices. By so doing, Youth Culture and Social Change maps out new ways of historicizing responses to economic and social change, public unrest, and popular culture.

Re-imagining Asia Shaheen Merali, 2008. Beyond the often mythologized idea of Asia, the contributors of Re-Imagining Asia investigate artistic heritage, political orientation, and the tensions between tradition and modernity. Through the visual image and the written word, they move toward a definition of Asian values, both aesthetic and intellectual. Lavishly illustrated with artist biographies and exhibition histories, Shaheen Merali, artist and curator, is head of the Department of Exhibition, Film, and New Media at the House of World Cultures in Berlin. He has exhibited internationally in Barcelona, London, New York City, Queens Museum of Art, and Bronx Museum of the Arts, Singapore, and Vienna. He is the author of Blackpop (Saqi Books) and the editor of New York States of Mind (Saqi Books).

Education Out of Bounds T. Lewis, R. Kahn, 2010-11-14. Through a unique combination of critical, posthumanist, and educational theories, the authors engage in a surreal journey into the worlds of feral children, alien reptoids, and faery faiths in order to understand how social movements are renegotiating the boundaries of community.

Class, Culture and Social Change John Kirk, 2007-10-11. Class, Culture and Social Change challenges the notion of the death of the working class. The author examines a number of key issues for working class studies: the idea of the death of class, the importance of working class writing, the significance of place and space for understanding working class identity, and the centrality of work in working class lives. Drawing on the work of Raymond Williams, Valentin Volosinov, Mikhail Bakhtin, and others, the book seeks to revive ways for thinking about working class identity and experience.

Research Methods for Cultural Studies Michael Pickering, 2008. An introduction to a range of research methods that are deployed in the study of cultural studies and related disciplines.

A Prescience of African Cultural Studies Handel Kashope Wright, 2004. In A Prescience of African Cultural Studies, Handel Kashope Wright makes an argument for undertaking a necessary paradigm shift from literature studies in Africa to African Cultural Studies. There are several major themes in this text; in particular, it rejects mainstream notions of literature as self-deceptively apolitical and decidedly non-utilitarian. As an alternative, Wright proposes African Cultural Studies as an African centered discourse and praxis that incorporates written oral and performance forms and overtly addresses political and sociocultural issues He articulates African Cultural Studies in relation to existing cultural studies its taken for granted British origin and genealogy and its global trajectories Finally Wright elaborates on African Cultural Studies by reconceptualizing drama emphasizing performance over written text incorporating film and electronic media and exploring the potential contribution African cultural studies could make to both the discourse and process of development in Africa

Re-imagining Writing Phil Fitzsimmons,Johanna Pentikäinen,2014

Cultural Studies and the Working Class Sally Munt,2000 This work challenges the field of British cultural studies to return to the question of social class as a primary focus of study The chapters examine contemporary working class life and its depiction in the media through a number of case studies on topics such as popular cinema football romance magazines and club culture The essays pose methodologies for understanding working class responses to dominant culture and explore the contradictions and limitations of the traditional Marxist model The book s contributors conclude that it is time for cultural theorists to revisit issues of working class cultural formations and to renew the original radical intentions of the discipline by reintegrating class analysis into social templates of race sexuality and gender
