Reading Contemporary Fiction:

Reading Contemporary Chinese Migrant Fiction Meng Xia, 2025-06-12 Reading Contemporary Chinese Migrant Fiction examines the spectrum of Chinese migrant writing about memory since the 1990s and what it tells us about history memory and trauma in contemporary China Drawing on a range of interdisciplinary approaches the book casts new light on texts by writers from the Cultural Revolution generation including Ken Liu Yiyun Li and Geling Yan among others Meng Xia demonstrates how these writers construct collective identity in the contexts of transnational experiences of migration and historical trauma The book delves into the possibilities and problems of transposing memory across borders and engages with debates over the unspeakability and politicization of trauma across public and private lines Reading

Contemporary African American Literature Beauty Bragg, 2014-11-12 Reading Contemporary African American Literature focuses on the subject of contemporary African American popular fiction by women Bragg s study addresses why such work should be the subject of scholarly examination describes the events and attitudes which account for the critical neglect of this body of work and models a critical approach to such narratives that demonstrates the distinctive ways in which this literature captures the complexities of post civil rights era black experiences In making her arguments regarding the value of popular writing Bragg argues that black women s popular fiction foregrounds gender in ways that are frequently missing from other modes of narrative production They exhibit a responsiveness and timeliness to the shifting social terrain which is reflected in the rapidly shifting styles and themes which characterize popular fiction In doing so they extend the historical function of African American literature by continuing to engage the black body as a symbol of political meaning in the social context of the United States In popular literature Beauty Bragg locates a space from which black women engage a variety of public discourses Reading Contemporary Environmental Justice R. Sreejith Varma, 2023-07-14 This volume investigates 11 contemporary environmental justice narratives from Kerala the south western state in India Introducing a detailed review of environmental literature in Malayalam the selected eco narratives are presented through two key literary genres life narratives and novels conveying the socio environmental pressures problems and anxieties of modern globalising Kerala This text also entails primary investigations of toxic fictions and extractivist fictions including Malayalam novels that narrate the disastrous consequences of the permeation of toxic pollutants in human and ecosystemic bodies and novels that chronicle the impact of exploitative mining activities on the environment All eco narratives analysed in the book exhibit the familiar pattern of the Global South environmental narratives namely a close imbrication of the ecological and social spheres Reading Contemporary Environmental Justice argues that these selected eco texts offer inspiring scenarios where the subaltern people show thantedam or courage to claim thante idam one s own space in society and on the Earth This volume will be essential for those looking to expand their understanding of environmental justice and the harmful effects of development and modernisation Reading Contemporary Black British and African American Women Writers Jean

Wyatt, Sheldon George, 2020-01-28 Contemporary African American and Black British Women Writers Narrative Race Ethics brings together British and American scholars to explore how in texts by contemporary black women writers in the U S and Britain formal narrative techniques express new understandings of race or stimulate ethical thinking about race in a reader Taken together the essays also demonstrate that black women writers from both sides of the Atlantic borrow formal structures and literary techniques from one another to describe the workings of structural racism in the daily lives of black subjects and to provoke readers to think anew about race Narratology has only recently begun to use race as a category of narrative theory This collection seeks both to show the ethical effects of narrative form on individual readers and to foster reconceptualizations of narrative theory that account for the workings of race within literature and culture
