The Monastic Discourses Theoleptos (Metropolitan of Philadelphia),1992 Theoleptos of Philadelpheia
Theoleptos (Metropolitan of Philadelpheia),Robert Edward Sinkewicz,1992 Learning as Shared Practice in Monastic Communities, 1070-1180 Micol Long,2021-10-11 In this study Micol Long looks at Latin letters written in Western Europe between 1070 and 1180 to reconstruct how monks and nuns learned from each other in a continuous informal and reciprocal way during their daily communal life The book challenges the common understanding of education as the transmission of knowledge via a hierarchical master disciple learning model and shows how knowledge was also shared exchanged jointly processed and developed Long presents a new and more complicated picture of reciprocal knowledge exchanges which could be horizontal and bottom up as well as vertical and where the same individuals could assume different educational roles depending on the specific circumstances and on the learning contents See inside the book Ascetic Discourses Abba Isaiah Of Scetis,John Chryssavgis,Pachomios (Robert) Penkett,2009-04-01 Written in the fifth century during one of the most formative periods of Christian monasticism in Egypt and Palestine The Ascetic Discourses show a strong influence of the Scripture both Old and New and of Early monastic writers Abba Isaiah has set forth a practical guide for monks ever aware of the challenges that interpersonal relationships present within monastic communities The Monastic Discourses
Théolepte de Philadelphie,1992 Ecclesiastical Discourses William Bernard Ullathorne,1876 Byzantine Images and their Afterlives Lynn Jones,2016-12-05 The twelve papers written for this volume reflect the wide scope of Annemarie Weyl Carr s interests and the equally wide impact of her work The concepts linking the essays include the examination of form and meaning the relationship between original and copy and reception and cultural identity in medieval art and architecture Carr s work focuses on the object but considers the audience looks at the copy for retention or rejection of the original form and meaning and always seeks to understand the relationship between intent and perception She examines the elusive nature of center and periphery expanding and enriching the discourse of manuscript production icons and their copies and the dissemination of style and meaning Her body of work is impressive in its chronological scope and geographical extent as is her ability to tie together aspects of patronage production and influence across the medieval Mediterranean The volume opens with an overview of Carr s career at Southern Methodist University by Bonnie Wheeler Kathleen Maxwell Justine Andrews and Pamela Patton contribute chapters in which they examine workshops subgroups and influences in manuscript production and reception Diliانا Angelova Lynn Jones and Ida Sinkevic offer explorations of intent and reception focusing on imperial patronage relics and reliquaries Cypriot studies are represented by Michele Bacci and Maria Vassilaki who examine aspects of form and style in architecture and icons The final chapters by Jaroslav Folda Anthony Cutler Rossitza Schroeder and Ann Driscoll are linked by their focus on the nature of copies and tease out the ways in which meaning is retained or altered and the role that is played by intent and reception Lay Piety and Religious Discipline in Middle English

Mount Athos, the Sacred Bridge Dimitri Conomos, Dimitri E. Conomos, Graham Speake, 2005 Most of the papers included in this volume were first presented at a conference convened by the Friends of Mount Athos at Madingley Hall Cambridge in 2003 Mount Athos is the principal surviving centre of Orthodox monasticism and the spiritual heart of the Orthodox world The aims of the conference were to draw attention to the historic importance the spirituality and the religious legacy of the Holy Mountain and to shed light on the contribution made by Athonite monasticism not only to worldwide Orthodoxy but also to Christianity at large Many of the papers focus on particular individuals who from the fourteenth century to the twentieth have exemplified the spiritual traditions of Athos and whose memory as spiritual fathers confessors and ascetics continues to inspire their successors today

The Resounding Soul Samuel Kimbriel, Eric Austin Lee, 2016-09-29 It is surely not coincidental that the term soul should mean not only the centre of a creature's life and consciousness but also a thing or action characterised by intense vivacity that basks in the sun It also seems far from coincidental that the same contemporary academic discussions that have largely cast aside the language of soul in their quest to define the character of human mental life should themselves be so bloodless or so lacking in soul The Resounding Soul arises from the opposite premise that the task of understanding human nature is bound up with the more critical task of learning to be fully human The papers collected here are derived from a conference in Oxford sponsored by the Centre of Theology and Philosophy and explore the often surprising landscape that emerges when human consciousness is approached from this angle Drawing upon literary philosophical theological historical and musical modes of analysis these essays remind the reader of the power of the ancient language of soul over against contemporary impulses to reduce fragment and overly determine human selfhood

The Paterik of the Kievan Caves Monastery Muriel Heppell, 1989
The Kievan Caves Monastery was for centuries the most important Ukrainian monastic establishment. It was the outstanding center of literary production and its monks served throughout the territory of Rus as bishops and monastic superiors. The most detailed source for the monastery's early history is its Paterik, a thirteenth-century compilation containing stories reaching back to the monastery's foundation in the mid-eleventh century. Muriel Heppell now makes available the first complete English translation of the Paterik. With an introduction, map, and several appendices, Heppell discusses the work's Byzantine background and also sets it in its historical context. The Harvard Library of Early Ukrainian Literature is one portion of the Harvard Project in Commemoration of the Millennium of Christianity in Rus-Ukraine, sponsored by the Ukrainian Research Institute of Harvard University. The Library encompasses literary activity in Rus-Ukraine from its beginning in the mid-eleventh century through the end of the eighteenth century. Included are ecclesiastical and secular works written in a variety of languages such as Church Slavonic, Old Rus, Ruthenian, Middle Ukrainian, Polish, and Latin. This linguistic diversity reflects the cultural pluralism of Ukrainian intellectual life in the medieval and early modern periods. The Library consists of three parts: Texts, which publishes original works in facsimile whenever appropriate; English Translations; and Ukrainian Translations. Each volume begins with an introductory essay by a specialist. The two translation series also include maps, appendices, and indices. A cumulative index to the entire Library is planned.

Selected Discourses of Shenoute the Great, 2015-12-09
Shenoute the Great (c. 347-465) led one of the largest Christian monastic communities in late antique Egypt and was the greatest native writer of Coptic in history. For approximately eight decades, Shenoute led a federation of three monasteries and emerged as a Christian leader. His public sermons attracted crowds of clergy, monks, and lay people; he advised military and government officials; he worked to ensure that his followers would be faithful to orthodox Christian teaching and he vigorously and violently opposed paganism and the oppressive treatment of the poor by the rich. This volume presents in translation a selection of his sermons and other orations. These works grant us access to the theology, rhetoric, moral teachings, spirituality, and social agenda of a powerful Christian leader during a period of great religious and social change in the later Roman Empire.
