Mobile Agents For Telecommunications Applications: Proceedings Of The First International Workshop Ahmed Karmouch, Roger Impey, 1999-09-24 A software agent has a spectrum of definitions At one end of the scale are relatively simple client based software applications that can assist users in performing mundane tasks such as sorting e mail or downloading web pages This class of agents is often referred to as personal assistant agents At the other end of the scale is the concept of sophisticated software entities possessing artificial intelligence that autonomously travel through a network environment and make complex decisions on a user s behalf In telecommunications the definition lies somewhere between those two extremes This classification of mobile agents although not strictly adhering to the definition of intelligent agents originally proposed by the artificial intelligence community is generally acknowledged to be a useful categorization and has started to gain widespread acceptance We therefore define a mobile agent as a program that acts on behalf of a user or another program and is able to migrate from host to host on a network under its own control The agent chooses when and where it will migrate and may interrupt its own execution and continue elsewhere on the network The agent returns results and messages in an asynchronous fashion This volume discusses the emerging field of mobile software agents and their applications to the area of telecommunications such as active networks e commerce the Internet interactive QoS network management and feature interactions It addresses the needs of a wide audience including researchers software agent systems and telecommunication applications designers and users of software agents Link, 1983 The Massachusetts register, 2000 United States Investor, 1916 Ecclesial Diversity in Chinese Christianity Alexander Chow, Easten Law, 2021-07-27 This volume explores Chinese Christianity or Chinese Christianities in a variety of forms and expressions including those from outside the geopolitical boundaries of mainland China Advancing a multi disciplinary approach to the study of Chinese churches the essays collected here engage many historical sociological cultural and theological contingencies The collection includes historical discussions of the early 20th century encounters of Protestant and Catholic missionaries in China and the rise of Christianity among Malaysian Chinese and British Chinese communities Essays examine the thinking of K H Ting or Ding Guangxun often remembered for his leadership in the Three Self Patriotic Movement in the 1980s 90s by revisiting his earlier theology and approach to the Bible in the 1930s 50s These retrospectives give way to contemporary explorations into how Chinese churches negotiate their urban identities amidst the complexities of globalization in Chengdu and Shanghai as well as in Vancouver Canada Taken as a whole this collection offers close examinations into various aspects of Chinese Christianity s complex picture helping readers to recognize the many shades and colors of the global Chinese Church Environmental Oriented Electrochemistry C.A.C.
