MacArthur In Korea:

Korea and the Fall of MacArthur Trumbull Higgins,1960 It goes without saying that the nature of the Korean War has accentuated enormously the controversy between the Truman Administration and General MacArthur Indeed with the passage of time the war itself has become the focus of contemporary debate It was not a war that mobilized the emotional and physical energies of the entire American people Not only was it a limited war it was a most peculiar kind of limited war It was an undeclared war against an unidentified enemy Its aims were generally uncomprehended possibly because they were never adequately explained by the Truman Administration And the conduct of the war was as equivocal as its purpose

Preface MacArthur's War Stanley Weintraub,2000 Offers a chronological account of the events that took place in the Korean War during the months Douglas MacArthur was in command Command Crisis D. Clayton James,1982 The Truman-MacArthur Controversy and the Korean War John W. Spanier,1959 No detailed description available for The Truman MacArthur Controversy and the Korean War General MacArthur's Strategic Success During The Early Months Of The Korean War LTC James D. Clay,2015-11-06 Many military professionals regard General of the Army Douglas MacArthur as a very polarizing figure in military history from his strategic use of maneuver to defeat the Japanese at Leyte to his public defiance of the Commander in Chief President Truman on his policy towards the Korean War Seen by many as a tactical genius while others viewed him as an egomaniac General MacArthur exhibited both sides of this complex character but the evidence shows that MacArthur possessed a level of military competence that set him apart from his contemporaries In 1950 MacArthur demonstrated one of his most embarrassing defeats as well as one of his most brilliant successes within the course of ten weeks MacArthur exemplifies a level of confidence that earned him the modern reputation as an operational artist from his ability to turn the tide of war and restore South Korea s sovereignty MacArthur in Korea Robert Smith,1982 A detailed examination of MacArthur s actions in Korea reveals lesser known aspects of the general s character and ambitions Pictorial History of the Korean War Douglas Macarthur,2012-07-01 The Graphic Record Of The United Nations Forces In Action Throughout Every Phase Of The Korean Conflict MacArthur's Korean War Generals Stephen R. Taaffe,2016-03-14 Wedged chronologically between World War II and Vietnam the Korean War which began with North Korea s invasion of South Korea in June of 1950 possessed neither the virtuous triumphalism of the former nor the tragic pathos of the latter Most Americans supported defending South Korea but there was considerable controversy during the war as to the best means to do so and the question was at least as exasperating for American army officers as it was for the general public A longtime historian of American military leadership in the crucible of war Stephen R Taaffe takes a close critical look at how the highest ranking field commanders of the Eighth Army acquitted themselves in the first decisive year in Korea Because an army is no better than its leadership his analysis opens a new perspective on the army s performance in Korea and on the conduct of the war itself In that first year the Eighth Army s leadership ran the gamut from impressive to lackluster a surprising unevenness since so many of the high ranking officers had been battle tested in World War II Taaffe attributes these leadership difficulties to the army's woefully unprepared state at the war's start army personnel policies and General Douglas MacArthur's corrosive habit of manipulating his subordinates and pitting them against each other He explores the personalities at play their pre war experiences the manner of their selection their accomplishments and failures and of course their individual relationships with each other and MacArthur By explaining who these field corps and division commanders were Taaffe exposes the army's institutional and organizational problems that contributed to its up and down fortunes in Korea in 1950-1951 Providing a better understanding of MacArthur's controversial generalship Taaffe's book offers new and invaluable insight into the army's life and death struggle in America's least understood conflict MacArthur in Asia Hiroshi Masuda,2012-10-05 General Douglas MacArthur's storied career is inextricably linked to Asia His father Arthur served as Military Governor of the Philippines while Douglas was a student at West Point and the younger MacArthur would serve several tours of duty in that country over the next four decades becoming friends with several influential Filipinos including the country's future president Emanuel L. Quezon In 1935 he became Quezon's military advisor a post he held after retiring from the U.S. Army and at the time of Japan's invasion of 1941 As Supreme Commander for the Southwest Pacific MacArthur led American forces throughout the Pacific War He officially accepted Japan's surrender in 1945 and would later oversee the Allied occupation of Japan from 1945 to 1951 He then led the UN Command in the Korean War from 1950 to 1951 until he was dismissed from his post by President Truman In MacArthur in Asia the distinguished Japanese historian Hiroshi Masuda offers a new perspective on the American icon focusing on his experiences in the Philippines Japan and Korea and highlighting the importance of the general's staff the famous Bataan Boys who served alongside MacArthur throughout the Asian arc of his career to both MacArthur's and the region's history First published to wide acclaim in Japanese in 2009 and translated into English for the first time this book uses a wide range of sources American and Japanese official records and oral histories to present a complex view of MacArthur one that illuminates his military decisions during the Pacific campaign and his administration of the Japanese Occupation United States Army in the Korean War, 1961

The General Vs. the President World Watch Media,2016-12-23 The General vs the President General MacArthur vs President Truman Book Preview Truman relieving General Douglas MacArthur caused a bit of an uproar amongst the American public His motives were to limit the conflict in Korea resulting in his decision to remove MacArthur General MacArthur was full of ego and flair and issues between the two were inevitable When the Korean war first began in June of 1950 MacArthur had fantastic military strategies and maneuvers up his sleeve He used these to keep South Korea protected from communist invaders in North Korea MacArthur urged to enact a policy to defeat North Korean forces entirely Truman agreed but did so warily as he was aware the People's Republic of China may feel threatened and join the fight During October of 1950 MacArthur assured Truman that the Chinese wouldn't interfere Directly afterwards in November and

December Chinese troops burst into the American lines hundreds of thousands of soldiers preventing American forces from entering North Korea MacArthur requested the use of bombs against communist China as well as to utilize Taiwanese forces to fight the People's Republic of China When Truman denied him these requests their public disagreement began

MacArthur's Air Force Bill Yenne, 2019-09-19 General Douglas MacArthur is one of the towering figures of World War II and indeed of the twentieth century but his leadership of the second largest air force in the USAAF is often overlooked When World War II ended the three numbered air forces the Fifth Thirteenth and Seventh under his command possessed 4004 combat aircraft 433 reconnaissance aircraft and 922 transports After being humbled by the Japanese in the Philippines in 1942 MacArthur and his air chief General George Kenney rebuilt the US aerial presence in the Pacific helping Allied naval and ground forces to push back the Japanese Air Force re take the Philippines and carry the war north towards the Home Islands Following the end of World War II MacArthur was the highest military and political authority in Japan and at the outbreak of the Korean War in June 1950 he was named as Commander in Chief United Nations Command In the ten months of his command his Far East Air Forces increased dramatically and saw the first aerial combat between jet fighters Written by award winning aviation historian Bill Yenne this engrossing and widely acclaimed book traces the journey of American air forces in the Pacific under General MacArthur's command from their lowly beginnings to their eventual triumph over Imperial Japan followed by their entry into the jet age in the skies over Korea Truman, MacArthur, and the Korean War Dennis Wainstock, 1999-09-30 A general history of the critical first year of the Korean War this study deals primarily with relations between General Douglas MacArthur and President Harry S Truman from June 1950 to April 1951 a period that defined the war's direction until General Mark Clark the final U N Commander signed the Armistice two years later Although the ever changing military situation is outlined the main focus is on policymaking and the developing friction between Truman and MacArthur Wainstock contradicts the common view that MacArthur and Truman were constantly at odds on the basic aims of the war In the matter of carrying the fight to Communist China MacArthur and the Joint Chiefs differed only on timing not on the need for such action The end of the Cold War has provided historians with a better opportunity to study the forces that shaped the thinking of America's leaders at the time of the Korean War The sheer quantity of material now available while daunting is filled with colorful and outstanding personalities dramatic action and momentous actions that have had an impact on world events even to the present day Wainstock ultimately concludes that Washington placed too much emphasis on anti Communist ideology rather than long term national interest in the decision first to intervene in the war and later to cross the crucial 38th Parallel He also emphasizes the important contributions of General Matthew B Ridgway in stopping the Chinese offensive and in influencing Washington's decision not to carry the war to Communist China

MacArthur as the Operational Commander in Korea: A Pawn of Conflicting Policies Dennis Barletta, Naval war coll newport ri joint military operations Dept, 1998 The operational leader develops plans and formulates campaign strategy within the spectrum of the levels of war somewhere between the faint lines of strategy and operational art National policy and military strategy meet at the operational level Success is equated to the accomplishment of the military plans Unfortunately for General MacArthur conflicting directives and a lack of policy permeated the Korean Conflict Initially aligned the President and the Departments of State and Defense feared an escalation of the conflict and a potential World War III As the ground campaign developed though differing directives from these offices were delivered to General MacArthur with respect to US and UN expectations and desires in the region MacArthur was then left to decipher the conflicting and often inadequate guidance and do what he believed was best for the forces on the ground the Far East the United States and consequently the United Nations The contradictory policies are most evident when examining decisions to permit activity across the 38th parallel determining what type of war was being waged in Korea whether or not the drive should be for reunification of the North and the South and lastly what actions to take against the Chinese in North Korea In each of these situations MacArthur was forced to develop theater and operational plans without a solid national strategy to guide him Needless to say this placed the operational commander in a variety of precarious situations and ultimately led to his demise as the Commander of the Far East General Douglas MacArthur was a pawn of conflicting policies in Korea

Truman, MacArthur and the Korean War Dennis D. Wainstock, 2009-08 At 4 00 a m on June 25 1950 North Korean artillery began pounding South Korean positions and the Korean War began The Americans underestimated the strength of the North Koreans who quickly invaded the South and nearly overran the country Every US intelligence agency failed to predict the attack General Douglas MacArthur in Japan was sending gloomy reports after President Truman decided to stand up to Communist aggression in East Asia A long duel began between the general and the president that characterized the first year of the war and ended with the sacking of the man many Americans thought of as a national hero The War for Korea, 1945-1950 Allan Reed Millett, 2005 When the major powers sent troops to the Korean peninsula in June of 1950 it supposedly marked the start of one of the last century s bloodiest conflicts In volume 1 Allan Millett however reveals that the Korean War actually began with partisan clashes two years earlier and had roots in the political history of Korea under Japanese rule 1910 1945 In volume 2 he shifts his focus to the twelve month period from North Korea s invasion of South Korea on June 25 1950 through the end of June 1951 the most active phase of the internationalized Korean War The Riddle of MacArthur John Gunther, 1951 General Douglas MacArthur in Korea Clara Moonja Ha, 1968 The Recall of General Douglas MacArthur from Korea Donald Titus, 1969 The New Republic Herbert David Croly, 1908
