

Remembering The Past

By Maya Anthony

Memory's Embrace

In the quiet corners of my mind,
Memories linger, intertwined,
Soft whispers of days gone by,
Laughter, tears, hellos, and goodbyes.

Moments fleeting, now set in stone,
In memory's embrace, I'm never alone,
Glimpses of joy, shadows of despair,
All find their refuge there.

Hold them close, these fragments so vast,
For they're the bridges to our past,
With every memory, bright or dim,
We remember where we've been.

Past Remembering:

Proust, Beckett, and Narration James H. Reid, 2003-10-13 This is a comprehensive comparison of the narrative techniques of two of the twentieth century's most important writers of prose. Using a combination of theoretical analysis and close readings of Proust's A la recherche du temps perdu and Beckett's trilogy of novels Molloy, Malone Dies, and The Unnamable, James H. Reid compares the two novelists' use of first person narration in constructing and demystifying fictions of consciousness. Reid focuses on the narrator's search to represent the voice that speaks the novel; a search, he argues, that structures first person narration in the works of both novelists. He examines in detail the significant impact of Proust's writing on Beckett's own work as well as Beckett's subtle reworkings of Proust's themes and strategies. This study is an important contribution to critical literature and offers fresh perspectives on the crucial importance of the Recherche and the trilogy in the context of the twentieth century novel.

Dynamic Process Methodology in the Social and Developmental Sciences Jaan Valsiner, Peter C. M. Molenaar, Maria C.D.P. Lyra, Nandita Chaudhary, 2009-07-09 All psychological processes like biological and social ones are dynamic. Phenomena of nature, society, and the human psyche are context-bound, constantly changing, and variable. This feature of reality is often not recognized in the social sciences where we operate with averaged data and with homogeneous stereotypes and consider our consistency to be the cornerstone of rational being. Yet we are all inconsistent in our actions within a day or from one day to the next, and much of such inconsistency is of positive value for our survival and development. Our inconsistent behaviors and thoughts may appear chaotic, yet there is generality within this highly variable dynamic. The task of scientific methodologies, qualitative and quantitative, is to find out what that generality is. It is the aim of this handbook to bring into one framework various directions of construction of methodology of the dynamic processes that exist in the social sciences at the beginning of the 21st century. This handbook is set up to bring together pertinent methodological scholarship from all over the world and equally from the quantitative and qualitative orientations to methodology. In addition to consolidating the pertinent knowledge base for the purposes of its further growth, this book serves the major educational role of bringing practitioners, students, researchers, and professionals interested in applications the state of the art know-how about how to think about extracting evidence from single cases and about the formal mathematical/statistical tools to use for these purposes.

Memory Jordi Fernández, 2019-09-02 The aim of the book is to explain the metaphysics of memory: its intentionality, its phenomenology, and its epistemology. Fernández argues that memories represent their own causal origins and have a distinctive functional role. On those grounds, he then accounts for the feelings associated with our memories and for the special knowledge they afford.

Persia Past and Present Abraham Valentine Williams Jackson, 1906 Post-Conflict Hauntings Kim Wale, Pumla Gobodo-Madikizela, Jeffrey Prager, 2020-07-02 This book engages the globally pressing question of how to live and work with the haunting power of the past in the aftermath of mass violence. It brings together a collection of interdisciplinary contributions to reflect on the haunting of post conflict memory from the perspective of diverse country case studies including South Africa Rwanda Zimbabwe Northern Ireland North and South Korea Palestine and Israel America and Australia Contributions offer theoretical empirical and practical insights on the nature of historical trauma and practices of collective healing and repair that include embodied artistic and culturally relevant forms of wisdom for dealing with the past While this question has traditionally been explored through the lens of trauma studies in relation to the post Holocaust experience this book provides new understandings from a variety of different historical contexts and disciplinary perspectives Its chapters draw on challenge and expand the trauma concept to propose more contextually relevant frameworks for transforming haunted memory in the aftermath of historical trauma
