Nature Aims And Policy:

Nature, Aims, and Policy Adrian Maurice Dupuis, 1970 National Income and Nature: Externalities, Growth and Steady State J.J. Krabbe, Wim Heijman, 2012-12-06 Since the environmental revolution began in the late 1960s economists have done a lot of work in the field of economic theory building on the preservation of nature Meanwhile environmental economic literature has swelled to a large stream of articles in journals of different signature As a result a coherent economic view of the phenomenon of environmental degradation has emerged Several kinds of green public policies and their impacts on both nature and the performance of the economy have been analysed The feasibility of specific types of policy has also been discussed The aim of the book is to provide an insight into the ways economists analyse the problems of environmental pollution and the depletion of natural resource To this purpose a number of articles have been selected Some of them have a fundamental character others an applied nature and are foremost practically oriented The presentation of the collection emphasizes our belief that economists are able to deliver an essential contribution to the design of policies to protect nature It is clear that nature and environment may no longer be regarded as free gifts to society Rather they have to be seen as scarce resources and environmental disruption and resource depletion as allocation problems If a natural resource is scarce a price must be charged in accordance with the degree of scarcity since otherwise society will be confronted with misallocations In this connection there are two topics which are of particular interest to economists Ecuador Ecology, Nature Protection Laws and Regulations Handbook Volume 1 Strategic Information and Basic Laws IBP, Inc., 2015-05-21 2011 Updated Reprint Updated Annually Ecuador Ecology Nature Protection Laws and Regulation Handbook Theory and Nature of War: readings ,1993 Theory and Nature of War ,1993 Nature Conservation in Europe Graham Tucker, 2023-05-25 European ecosystems and species remain under pressure from intensive agriculture and forestry fishing pollution urban sprawl invasive species and climate change This book provides a detailed description and critical analysis of nature conservation responses achievements and failures motivated by the concerning state of nature and missed biodiversity targets It summarises Europe's nature and the impact of human activities and then gives an overview of relevant international biodiversity treaties and the EU nature conservation policy and legislative framework The core of the book comprises chapters written by national experts which cover the UK and twenty five EU Member States providing comparative case studies from which valuable lessons are drawn Covering wide ranging topics such as biodiversity pressures legislation and governance biodiversity strategies species protection protected areas habitat management and funding this book is of interest to a wide audience including academics and professionals involved in nature conservation and related environmental fields The Nature and Necessity of Interest Gustav Cassel, 1903 Nature Sir Norman Lockyer, 1911 The System of Animate Nature: The unfathomed universe and the aim of science John Arthur Thomson, 1920 Regional Policy Jill Preston, 1994 The Nature and Meaning of Teaching Ralph Frederick Strebel, Grover Cleveland Morehart, 1929

International Crimes: Law and Practice Guénaél Mettraux, 2020-05-27 Judge Mettraux's four volume compendium International Crimes Law and Practice will provide the most detailed and authoritative account to date of the law of international crimes. It is a scholarly tour de force providing a unique blend of academic rigour and an insight into the practice of international criminal law. The compendium is unrivalled in its breadth and depth covering almost a century of legal practice, dozens of jurisdictions, national and international, thousands of decisions and judgments and hundreds of cases. This second volume discusses in detail crimes against humanity.
