Olinda's Dream:

From Khartoum to Jerusalem Rachel Mairs, 2016-05-05 In 2014 a collection of papers was found on eBay a scrapbook inside which was written Testimonial Book of Dragoman Solomon N Negima The letters pasted into the testimonial book bear recommendations of Negima's services as dragoman a combination of tourist guide and interpreter in the Holy Land from travellers of different nationalities social classes religions genders and races Using these reference letters and the first hand published and unpublished accounts of the travellers themselves this book tells the stories of several such tourists including the intrepid Victorian female traveller Ellen E Miller and an African American minister Rev Charles T Walker who had been born into slavery Between the lines of others letters Solomon Negima's remarkable life story also emerges from a German mission school in Jerusalem to the British army in the Sudan to a successful career as a dragoman in Palestine and Syria and finally to comfortable retirement with his son Aziz and daughter Olinda at a Mormon mission in Jerusalem The discovery of this unique scrapbook allows us an insight into the lives of individuals whose histories would otherwise be lost to us and a new perspective on the history of travel in the Middle East

Olinda's Dream Farid Hourani, 2000 One part of the book covers the highlight history of the Middle East mainly from 1860 to the present time The text typed in italics appears intermittently in the course of the book It is well referenced The second part typed in plain Roman text covers basically the story semi biographical of four generations of my families The centerpiece of the book is timely because it covers the Israeli Palestinian conflict the creation of Israel in 1948 the 1967 War the 1973 War the Israeli invasion of Lebanon in 1982 and the Intifada The involvements of the neighboring countries Britain France United States presidents and Nazi Germany in these conflicts are covered The book could be considered the Gone with the Wind of the Middle East The author's thoughts ideas philosophy and experiences both medical and non medical developed in the book could be construed as a follow up to the thoughts of Kahlil Gibran The book contains many literary and appealing quotations of famous people fittingly woven into its matrix
